SECOND EDITION.

FOUR O'CLOCK.

HARRISBURG.

Republican Apportionment.

THE HOUSE PASSES THE BILL

It Goes to the Senate.

DEMOCRATIC THREATS.

Republican Response.

THE DEAD LOCK.

[Special to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, March 31, 1871.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House devoted its whole time to the Republican Apportionment bill, which passed finally by a party vote, and will go to the Senate as reported by the House Committee on Apportionment without amendment.

The Democrats alleged openly that the Senate would refuse to adjourn till a satisfactory bill was passed.

The Republicans, in response, asserted they would carry a bill fair to them, or be satisfied till next election with the apportionment of 1864.

The Senate and House are certainly at a dead lock on this question.

The House adjourned till Tuesday morning.

FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 31, 1871.

SENATE.

KU KLUX LEGISLATION.

The debate upon Sherman's resolution directing the Judiciary Committee to report in favor of ku klux legislation continued.

Mr. POOL addressed the Senate at length in expression of the cause and effect and remedy for outrages in the South. The popular voice of his State condemned them. After commenting upon the extensive ramifications and influence of these secret organizations, whose power was great enough to protect their members when brought to trial, and whose whole purpose was to overthrow the Fourteenth Amendment and reconstruction measures, he said if the government designed to protect legal citizens and execute its policy, some positive and determined demonstrations on its part was necessary else it should surrender everything to the control of desperadoes. His opinion was some mild but firm measures should be adopted with the understanding that if they fail, martial law would be restored to the former insurrectionary states and they remanded to territorial condison. A little of martial law would prove a wholesome check upon ku-klux.

At one o'clock an adjournment over from to-day until Monday was ordered.

Mr. POOL then resumed with the intimation that his speech would occupy the remainder of the day. The unanimous vote of Democratic members in both Houses of Congress against the Fourteenth Amendment and Reconstruction Laws has prompted the Southern people to resist the laws in hope of the Northern Democracy gaining power and overthrowing that Legislation. The fierce and lawless Ku Klux were formidable because of their belief that the sympathies of the Democratic party of the North are with them. He feared this organized outlawry would again end in civil war, and he would beseech the Democratic party that if it did not intend standing by the south in such a contingency, nor to lead that people to their destruction, to renounce its moral support to these unlawful deeds. The aversion of southern capital to the employment of free labor, whether native or northern, was another cause of disorganization in southern society. Mr. Pool defended Holden from the charges made against him in his impeachment trial. He believed that although the Governor committed some blunders, he acted conscientiously in an earnest effort to do his duty. His conviction and removal were singular because a number of the State Senators it was believed, held office in violation of the Fourteenth amendment and because the Republican Senators had been ejected to make up two-thirds for conviction.

Mr. BLAIR remarked that the example for such a step had been set by the United States Senate.

Mr. POOL replied that the example of the Democratic platform of 1868, in advising resistence to reconstruction had originated Ku-Klux.

Mr. BLAIR was then awarded the floor, and at 3:15 the Senate went into executive session and subsequently adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.

On motion of Mr. DAVIS a resolution was adopted directing the Secretary of the Treasury to furnish an estimate of the number of pounds of paper that is required to replace and print the bank circulation and the cost per pound of the distinctive paper now used for Legal Tender notes, fractional notes and bonds prior to 1870, the amount paid for paper now in use and circulation.

Mr. WHEELER introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to change the name of the ship W. F. Storer to that of Hamilton Fish.

In reply to a question he said it was merely in compliment to Secretary Fish. Bill passed.

ENFORCING THE FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT.

Mr. SHELLABARGER proposed that by unanimous consent the House take a recess from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m. this evening for debate only. He made the suggestion because so many gentlemen desire to address the house on the bill to enforce the 14th amendment.

After general conversation it was agreed to and further agreed that to-morrow should be devoted to debate only.

The House then resumed the consideration of the bill.

Mr. FARNSWORTH was opposed to the second and third sections and gave the ground of his dissent, particularly to that part which says—

"If the constituted authorities of any State shall either be unable to, or shall fail in, or refuse protection to the people in their rights, and shall fail or neglect through proper authorities to apply to the President for aid in their behalf, such facts shall be deemed a denial of the equal protection of the law, and in all such cases it shall be lawful for the President to intervene for the suppression of insurrection." He would go to the verge of the Constitution to save the nation's life, but this was not the time. In conclusion he said he did not believe in centralism and the abolition of State lines.

Mr. BINGHAM of Ohio, said it was too late to doubt whether Congress could by constitutional enactment enforce the rights of the people of this nation against combinations in the States. This right was asserted under the administration of Washington and met his approval. In connection with his argument he referred to the act of 1795 authorizing the President to call out militia &c., to suppress insurrection and unlawful combination &c. There have been provisions of law ever since the foundation of the government. There might be provisions in this bill not necessary, if so he would seek the privilege of amending it. New limitations of power had been placed on the States by late amendments to the constitution. The first eight articles of the old amendment bound the nation by new limitations. In conclusion he made an appeal in behalf of justice which was applauded.

Mr. SWANN, of Maryland, was gratified to have the opportunity to address the House on questions more vital than any heretofore presented. The bill involved the liberty of the people. It conferred upon the President powers equal to those possessed by the Czar of Russia, and seemed to be designed to perpetuate the rule of the party now in power without limitation unless interfered with by revolution, and the indignation of the outraged people which it was calculated to provoke. He maintained there was no shadow of pretext to justify the President to interfere in the affairs of the south.

During the proceedings Mr. WADDELL, as one of the Representatives from North Carolina, insisted that as his State was the principal defendant in this indictment, he ought to be heard, and appealed to the gentleman as an act of justice to give him a small portion of the time allowed for debate. He will probably speak to-morrow.

Mr. PERRY said that the rights, privileges and immunities secured to a large class of the people by the thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth amendment to the Constitution were abridged, they were deprived of life, liberty and property without due process of law. The right to vote was abridged or denied on account of color or previous condition of servitude and equal protection of the law was denied them. The proof of this condition of things had been made to the house in the same way proof was ordinarily made to the Legislative bodies. The acts of lawless men South are so much worse than brigandage that it would be just to call them brigands. There was among them rancorous and implacable discontent on account of civil rights conferred on colored men by the amendments. He argued the Constitutionality of the bill under consideration.

ITALIAN MATTERS.

On motion of Mr. Brooks, of New York, a resolution was adopted that the Secretary of State be requested, if not incompatible with public interests, to communicate copies of any correspondence between that department and our Minister Plenipotentiary at Florence in relation to the occupation of Rome by the King of Italy, and what correspondence has taken place since December 1, 1870.

The House at 4:30 took a recess until 7:30 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.—The speakers at the evening session were Messrs. Arthur, Atcher, Horne, McCormick, Sheldon and Moore, who opposed the bill, and Monroe and Lowe who favored it.

Mr. SHELDON argued from the satisfactory state of affairs in Louisiana, that the general amnesty should be extended throughout the South, while Mr. Moore declared that Congress should have adjourned at once. Congress had already made a great mistake and that no good had come by continuance in session but much damage had already accrued to the republican party. The debate continued till midnight, when the House adjourned till to-morrow.

DETROIT.

SENATOR HOWARD STRUCK WITH APOPLEXY.

DETROIT, March 31.—Ex-Senator Howard was struck with apoplexy at noon to-day, and at midnight was totally unconscious.

FROM EUROPE.

Distracted France!

REVOLUTION RIFE!

"Death to the Rich!"

OUT WITH THE GUILLOTINE!

On to Versailles!

CIVIL WAR IMMINENT!

The Commune Busy!

GERMANY AND FRANCE.

REMOVAL OF THE POSTOFFICE STOPPED.

PARIS, March 31.—The delegates to the Commune National surrounded, the general postoffice to-day and prevented its transfer to Versailles. The postal service is completely disorganized. The Electoral Committee demands a rigid scrutiny into the elections on Sunday last.

RAISING THE SIEGE.

LONDON, March 31.—A dispatch from Berlin says that the state of siege in the districts of France occupied by the First, Second, Eighth, Tenth and Eleventh Corps has been raised from March 27, prisoners, however, will still be subject to trial by court martial.

MODIFYING PEACE PRELIMINARIES.

The Echo du Parliament of Brussels says, a treaty has been signed modifying the preliminaries of peace by granting delay in the payment of the five hundred millions of francs due in April.

ORGANIZING TROOPS.

The Independence Belge states that Ulric Fouvienille is organizing a force of 300,000 National Guards at St. Germaines, for the support of law and order.

THE "THUNDERER" ALARMED.

A special dispatch to the London Times anticipates the approaching struggle which must be of a desperate character.

THREATENING.

Le Vengur threatens the forcible ejection of the National Assembly from Versailles. The insurgents seem to be confident that the government troops will not fight.

RAISING THE WIND.

The Communal Council is deliberating on a proposal to pay the Prussian indemnity by selling Versailles for one milliard francs to an Anglo-American company; St. Cloud for eight hundred million francs to a German gambling proprietor, and Fontainebleau for five hundred million francs.

MAILS DELAYED.

A Daily News special dispatch from Versailles says the Government will stop all horses and cattle from entering Paris. Mails to and from Paris are greatly delayed and will be suspended entirely.

DISARMING NATIONALS.

The Commune is actively disarming loyal Nationals.

PARIS IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.

The evening edition of the Times contains a letter describing the situation at Paris as critical. The gravest ospression is felt in all quarters, but measures of preservation will be strictly enforced everywhere and the significant word though spoken only in whispers is in everybody's mouth.

GERMAN OCCUPATION.

The Evening Standard has a dispatch reporting that the Germans will occupy Paris immediately upon the downfall of the Thiers government. A proclamation from the Communes predicts a universal Republic.

QUIET.

The insurrection at Marseilles is dying out. Lyons is quiet.

THE COMMUNALS.

A dispatch from Paris says that the Communal Council holds its deliberations in private but the following information has been divulged. An executive body of members has been appointed and the commune divided into nine sections—Finance, War, Judges, Safety, Subsistence, Education, Labor, Foreign and Municipal.

[World Special.]

ONTO VERSAILLES.

PARIS, March 31.—The Government has completed an arrangement for moving against the Paris troops, and will move simultaneously with the Germans along the line by Montmarie and Beary. Learning this the Commune resolved to march on Versailles to-night with 30,000 National Guards via Mont Roge and Camp Sartony, where the infantry line is stationed, and overcoming or fraternizing with these they will proceed to Versailles and disperse the Assembly. New decrees issued by the Commune make the workmen wild with delight.

[Special to the World.]

CONSTERNATION IN PARIS.—REVOLUTION RIFE.

PARIS, March 31.—All here is consternation. The watch word of the Commune is "Death to the Rich," "Death to the land owners," "Death to Priests."

Decrees confiscating church property have been prepared. Denunciations are expected to be made hourly and many persons have been arrested.

The guillotine will soon be erected.

The inmates of many houses have been marked as good for the guillotine.

Drafts on the Treasury are not paid, either in Paris or Versailles.

ENGLAND.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEEDINGS.

LONDON, March 31.—In the House of Commons last evening Sir Charles Dilke, in continuation of his remarks upon Russia's repudiation of the treaty of 1856, submitted a motion expressive of regret on the part of the House that the Government accepted the proposition for holding a conference.

Mr. Gilpin concurred both in the remarks and motion. He asserted that it was not the mission of England to preserve the peace of Europe and advocated a general disarmament.

Lord George Manners continued the attack upon the ministers who were defended by Sir Robert Peel.

After having been severely castigated by ministerialists, Sir Charles finally withdrew his motion.

THE UNIVERSITY BOAT RACE.

The great race between Oxford and Cambridge comes off to-morrow, over the usual course between Putney and Mortlake. Owing to the condition of the course, the race will be rowed in the morning before ten o'clock. The betting is six to four on Cambridge.

DISTURBANCES IN JAPAN.

LONDON, March 31.—Advices from Shanghai of February 15 state that serious disturbances are expected in Japan. One of the Mikado's councillors had been assassinated, and the act is known to have been of a purely political nature.

ARRIVALS.

The steamer Brittania, from New York, touched at Moville, the Tarifa at Queenstown, and the Manhattan arrived at Liverpool.

THE LION WANTING A FINGER IN THE EUROPEAN PIE.

LONDON, March 31.—In the House of Lords this evening the chancellor's bill to unseat bankrupt peers was adjourned until April 20.

In the House of Commons Mr. Hugessen gave notice that the government was preparing a bill providing for the confederation of the British Islands in the West Indies.

Mr. Gladstone announced that the House would on Tuesday next adjourn over for the Easter holidays.

Mr. Cochrane, (Conservative) moved that in the opinion of the House the government in view of the existing state of tranquility in Europe, should urge Prussia to moderate the terms of peace she required of France. He said the mere indemnity exacted for the expenses of the war was equal in amount to one sixth of the entire Capital of France. Mr. Cochrane added that by her lack of sympathy with France, England had lost a firm ally without gaining another.

Mr. Peter Hoare seconded the motion, saying the payment of indemnity to Germany imposed an additional burden of fourteen millions yearly on the French revenues.

Mr. Gladstone replied that England's conduct was applauded by all Europe. France was in the wrong as regarded the immediate cause of the war and Germany was right, though the latter was not free from blame in the affair. He regretted the revelations concerning the so-called Benedetti treaty and defended Lord Granville's policy of neutrality and his course in securing the neutrality of other powers. He believed that through the efforts of the noble Lord, Prussia had already mitigated her terms and he urged the inopportuneness of the motion and it was withdrawn.

FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

At noon on Thursday the Sub-Central Committee remitted its powers to the Communal Council, and a decree was at once made public abolishing conscription.

All able-bodied male Parisians are ordered to join the National Guard.

A decree has been issued in Paris remitting all lodgers' rents from October, 1870, to April, 1871, and suspending the sale of pawned articles.

Another decree orders all public officials on pain of dismissal to disregard the orders emanating from Versailles.

The Government Place Vendome is placarded with the decrees of the Communists.

All documents from the Versailles authorities are forbidden circulation in Paris.

The Deputies Delescluse and Cournient, desiring to remain with the Communists, have resigned their seats in the Assembly.

A proclamation has been issued in Paris by "Federation National" calling upon the citizens of Paris to assist in forming a universal republic.

One hundred and sixty thousand persons have left Paris during the past ten days.

The chaplains have been ordered to cease the performance of Mass in the prisons.

The insurance offices have been searched by order of the Commune for jewels and money deposited by the Empress Eugenie.

The troops from the southwest of France are ordered to concentrate at Augeuleme. The marine infantry are at Versailles, and expect to be reviewed on Sunday in the Champs de Mars, Paris.

Bismarck, in an interview with a London correspondent, stated that Germany would never interfere with the national affairs of France, except to force observance of the peace stipulations.

GERMANY.

DOINGS OF THE REICHSTAG.

BERLIN, March 31.—In the Reichstag yesterday a draft of the address to the Emperor in response to his speech at the opening of the session which had been prepared by Herr Bennengsen was adopted by a vote of 243 to 63. Six abstained from voting.

The address is opposed by Catholic members who themselves moved as an amendment an address expressing the principle that Germany should interfere with the Italian government in affairs at Rome. This proposition was rejected.

The proper form of government for Alsace and Lorain, has not yet been decided upon, a statement recently made to the contrary in the London Post was premature.

ITALY.

CARDINAL ANTONELLI.

LONDON, March 31.—It is reported from Rome that Cardinal Antonelli has resigned the office of Secretary of State in the Papal Cabinet.

CONVENTION RATIFIED.

FLORENCE, March 31.—The Financial Convention with Austria has been ratified.

SPAIN.

COLONIAL ELECTIONS ORDERED.

MADRID, March 31.—An order has been sent to the Captain General at Porto Rico to hold elections on that Island in July.

The Cuban elections will be ordered as soon as the announcement is received from Count Valmaseda that the necessary preliminaries have been completed.

RUSSIA.

HONORS FOR PRINCE GORTSCHAKOFF.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 31.—The Czar has conferred upon Prince Gortschakoff, and his heirs, the Courier's Cross of the Legion of honor as a mark of satisfaction at the settlement, by the Prince, of the Euxine question, with honor to Russia.

NEW YORK.

Bret Harte Exonerated—Injunction Against Erie—Governor's Veto—Coolies for Pennsylvania Mines—Canal Matters.

NEW YORK, March 31 1871.

BRET HARTE EXONERATED.

The following letter was published here this morning.

The statement made by the San Francisco News Letter to the effect that certain articles belonging to the Overland monthly had been furnished to the Lake Side monthly by Bret Harte is untrue in every particular. Of four articles specified by the letter, three were written and sent to us by regular contributors to this magazine and had been in our possession several months before published. The other came to us in the usual way direct from the author. Harte had nothing to do with our possession of either of them and the whole story is false and absurd.

(Signed) F. F. BROWN.
Editor Lake Side monthly.

AN INJUNCTION AGAINST ERIE.

Judge Blatchford to-day issued an injunction restraining the Erie managers from issuing new certificates of stock or convertible bonds until a further order from the court, under a penalty of $10,000. The injunction was granted on the affidavit of John Swane that the managers intend to issue ten million new certificates.

SPIRITUALISM.

The anniversary of the advent of modern spiritualism was held at Apollo Hall this afternoon, with a large attendance. Andrew Jackson Davis, Judge Edmunds and Cora L. V. Hatch were among the speakers. There will be a reception this evening.

COOLIES FOR THE PENNSYLVANIA MINES.

It is understood that definite propositions have been made to the managers of the great coal railroad for Chinese labor on a large scale for working the Pennsylvania mines. Some of the most thoughtful directors of those railroads terminating in New York, are convinced that this is their extreme resource for steady work.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

The Brooklyn Police Commissioners to-day dismissed for want of evidence, the charge against officer O'Keefe, of selling at auction, clothing infected with small pox.

VETOED.

The Governor has vetoed the pneumatic tube underground railroad bill.

HAVANA

Insurgent Successes.

HAVANA, March 27.—General Modesta Diaz, insurgent-in-chief, and a native of San Domingo, surprised, in the neighborhood of Bayomo, a body of seventy men of the Havana regiment. The attack was so sudden and well conducted that the Spaniard, after a slight resistance, fled, but excepting their chief, all were captured and killed. Diaz also surprised a cavalry force and killed twelve of their number. The rebel loss in these engagements was insignificant.

This continued activity in the eastern Department tends to confirm the Cuban assertion that a part of the Hornet's cargo was landed after the unfortunate attempt at Puerto Brava.

These successes, following the great victory at Mayant, inspire fresh hopes in insurgent circles.

The Havana general reports from the insurrectionary districts afford evidence of an ardent, warlike spirit.

Trustworthy information gives the insurgent loss in the attack on the town of Pinto as six Chinese and negroes killed, and also a son of Thomas Pintereo Roderigues.

A SOUTHERLY HURRICANE.

A southerly wind, almost a hurricane, has prevailed here. It was the heaviest ever experienced on this island.

SAN FRANCISCO.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Arrived, steamship Montana, from Panama. Mexican ports all quiet. In consideration of the benefit of the O. M. S. S. Company's steamers touching at Mazatlan they are permitted to enter clear of port charges by the custom officers.

COLONISTS.

About three hundred of the colonists for Lower California were taken off on a schooner, thirty miles from the main land, never having sight of the country, and sent ashore in Magdalen bay. Colonel Leze, who went out with them, left the steamer at Cape St. Lucas.

A PRECAUTIONARY.

The Mexican government appointed General Devalas Governor of Lower California, which is construed as a determination to assist the rights of the Republic in case the colonization company attempts any overt act.

NOT TO BE CONVICTED.

There are no probabilities of Mrs. Fair being convicted of murder, though the facts of killing Crittenden are not disputed.

CANADA.

The Expenses of the Fenian Raid—Admission of British Columbia.

OTTAWA, March 31.—In the Senate the Postmaster General stated that the claims of Canada for the Fenian raid expenses had been submitted to the Joint High Commission at Washington. If they were not entertained the Government would press them on the attention of the Imperial Government.

In the House of Commons, after the rejection of several amendments, the Government plan for the admission of British Columbia into the Dominion and for the construction of a Pacific Railroad was adopted by a vote of 91 to 70.

DAKOTA TERRITORY.

Extra Legislative Session.

YANKTON, Dakota Territory, March 31.—In response to a request of the committee appointed by a meeting of citizens asking for an extra session of the Territorial Legislations for the purpose of considering the propriety of passing an act to authorize the people of several counties to issue bonds to aid in the construction of railroads, the Secretary and acting Governor, Bachelder, issued a proclamation for a special session, to begin at noon on Tuesday, April eighteenth.

OIL NEWS.

Armstrong Run Oil Field—Disastrous Fire at Armstrong Run—Total Loss $10,000.

The people at Armstrong's Run were aroused from their beds early on Saturday morning of last week, by the explosion of the receiving tank at James well, No. 2. The gas took fire from a stove kept in the engine house by the watchman. Immediately following the explosion of the tank, the derrick and engine house took fire; the two remaining tanks next caught and exploded. A great volume of oil and fire then passed down the Run. The Reserve was the next to catch and add two-fold to the intensity of the conflagration. The rigs, tanks and fixtures were destroyed in thirty minutes. The black smouldering smoke, in the centre of which the walking-beam resting on the sampson post, charred and black, like the finger of fate, pointing up to the sky, taken in contrast with the roaring, hissing flame, was a scene at once grand and terrible.

Two tanks of James well No. 1, with capacity of 600 and 1,200 barrels, containing but little oil, caught fire. The well and fixtures were only saved by the untiring exertions of a few of its friends, among whom we noticed Geo. Gruber, Jordan Bros., Wm. Templeton, Jas. E. Mills, of Brady's Bend Iron Co., and others.

The Jennings & Schoonmaker well was the next victim, but by great efforts was saved from much damage. A tank across from the pump house belonging to the Reserve well was the next to catch, and very nearly destroyed the house. It was saved by great exertions, intense excitement and much water.

The entire loss is supposed to be $10,000.

OIL MATTERS.

The Clark Farm Co. well No. 1 is regularly pumping 125 barrels a day. This is a splendid well, and its fine yield is not only encouraging to operators, but strong evidence of the superior quality of the farm as oil territory.

THE DEELY WELL.

The Deely well struck oil on Thursday last, and in the afternoon had 800 feet of the fluid in the hole. Oil was forced out by the gas in large quantities. This is going to be a splendid well.

QUEENSTOWN WELLS.

About 300 barrels of oil were shipped at this place on Thursday last, from the upper Queenstown well. This well is doing finely.

Drilling is continued at the lower well. It flows at intervals, and a few mornings since flowed 15 barrels in twelve minutes.

AGNEW'S MILLS.

Our correspondent at Agnew's Mills says: "McFarland & Crawford had left the tools so long in their well, that we became discouraged, thinking they were going to abandon it; but they have two men engaged to take out the tools, and will begin operations on Monday next."

THE RENO OIL FIELD.

Intense excitement is raging concerning oil lands in Cranberry township, nearly opposite Reno. Three wells are about completed in that vicinity, and the prospect that they will prove large producing wells is very flattering.

One of these wells, on the John Milton farm, owned by McDonald, Hefferman, Findley and Simon, of Oil City, is now being tested. This well, known as the "Mollie well," was drilled by Peter Nolan, an experienced operator, and is 907 feet deep, with thirty feet of sand, equal in quality to any found in the oil region. The company owning the well have a lease of thirty acres, all of which they propose developing at once.

This well is southeast from Reno, near the Bredin and Milton wells, and has a heavier sand rock, and on the belief that the territory still further east would prove more productive, some parties on Tuesday, leased twenty acres adjoining the lease on which the well is located, paying therefor one-half the oil and $20 bonus per acre.

A large amount of land has been purchased and leased in the vicinity, and Messrs. McMullen, Patterson and Dickey, of Petroleum Centre, and Messrs. Irwin & Baum, of Franklin, are the largest holders.

The prospects are very flattering that this territory will prove productive.

A well owned by West, Foley and others, located on the Baum tract, Patchell Run, commenced pumping last Friday, and is yielding twenty barrels per day, heavy oil.—Spectator.

THE COURTS.

Proceedings Yesterday.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGE COLLIER.

The only case on trial in this court on yesterday was the McKeesport riot. A few weeks ago we published the particulars of this case, from which our readers will remember that a party of young men were charged with making a violent raid on the saloon of Christ. Becker, on the evening of February 18th. They demolished the furniture pretty effectually, and after using all the liquor they desired, turned into the street and completed their work by throwing boulders at the house and smashing windows, doors, &c., besides terrifying and endangering the lives of the inmates. The accused were Michael Herrington, Sidney Davis, Oliver Gibson and Robert Sickman. The case occupied the attention of the court all day, and will hardly be concluded to-day.

Women's Christian Association.

We are indebted to Mrs. F. R. Brunot, the efficient chief officer of this Association for its third annual report, which comprises separate reports from the respective parts or distinct organizations combined, under the auspices of the general association of christian women, and includes the report of Mrs. Fowler, the Secretary of the Association, with explanatory notes. The report of Miss Bryan, visitor "of the work among the females of the penitentiary. The report of Mrs. Logan, Treasurer, the report of the "receipts and expenditures." Lists of life Directors, life members, annual members, &c., also the report of the year's work of the "Home for Destitute Women" by Miss J. M. Smith, Secretary, including Mrs. Irwin's Treasurer report and a table of contributions, also a report by Mrs. Thurston, Secretary of the "Managers of the Home for aged Protestant Women" with a card from Miss Holmes the Treasurer, in relation to its finances—also the report of Mrs. McFadden, Secretary of "the Boarding Home for Working Women" with a list of subscribers and of donations, concluding with "The Sheltering Arms" under which head is "an appeal for funds to erect a reformatory Home for erring women."

This little pamphlet of 46 pages, we suppose will be extensively circulated; we hope no one into whose hands it may fall will throw it aside without a careful perusal; the reports and appeals are models of comprehensive brevity, no benevolent or charitable heart can read them without being impressed with a conviction that the work to which so many excellent women are giving their time and best efforts, is emphatically God's work, a work in which it should be a pleasure, as it is a duty of every christian to cooperate and aid until the several noble projects treated of shall be fully carried out.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The protean actress, Miss Lizzette Bernard, closes her engagement at this house to-day, when there will be a matinee at two o'clock, at which Oriana will be presented, and the usual evening performance, at which Miss Bernard will appear as the "French Spy" and "Dick Turpin."

On Monday evening Mr. E. T. Stetson will appear in the sensational play of "Neck and Neck."

OPERA HOUSE.—The great pantomimists, Maffitt and Bartholemew, take their leave of Pittsburgh with to-day's performances. A Robinson Crusoe matinee will be given at two o'clock for the benefit especially of ladies and children, and in the evening an immense entertainment consisting of pantomime, tight rope performance by M'lle Ronzatti, and a grand olio. Do not fail to give the children the benefit of the matinee as it is the last chance.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—Manager Aims offers an immense bill for the amusement of his friends this afternoon, any single feature of which ought to satisfy an audience. The Blondes and Brunettes, with the Rigl sisters and Galletti as leaders, appear in a new Ballet, Hanigan and Hart in their comic specialties, and Howard Morrissey and Emerson in songs and dances.

MASONIC HALL.—The opening reception of Millie Crissie, the two-headed girl, Miss Annie Swan, the Nova Scotia giantess, and Captain Bates, the Kentucky giant, will take place at this Hall at two o'clock on Monday next.

—Two officers of the New York State police yesterday shot and fatally wounded at Dobbs Ferry two notorious thieves, named John McCormick and Thomas Cavanagh. The officers were attempting to arrest the men when the shooting took place.

—A gale on the coast of California has driven the schooners Heinrich and Minerva ashore at Stewarts Point, and the Highland and Meldon at Salmon creek. The vessels were badly damaged but no lives lost.

—George W. Bly, Secretary of the Dodge county (Illinois) Mutual Insurance Company is a defaulter to the amount of $75,000.

DURING the Circuit Court held at Murray, Ky., last week, a citizen who had been summoned to serve on a jury, having failed to obey the summons, made the excuse to the judge that "he could not trust his family with the neighborhood, therefore he could not leave home."

THE DANGERS OF LAUGHING GAS.

A Lady Made Insane by Inhaling Nitrous Oxide—Warning to Dentists.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial, 26th inst.]

A lady in Cumminsville, for the past two weeks, has been showing signs of insanity for several days. She would run her servant girl out of the house and threaten her with destruction occasionally. Her husband is a stair builder, and was the most affectionate and indulgent spouse toward his wife possible, but it was found necessary to have a lady living close by to attend to her and keep her company, for fear she might commit some serious injury. Yesterday it was found necessary to apply to the courts for a certificate of her insanity, and convey her to Longview. It required the combined strength of four men to put her in the carriage at Cumminsville, and she uttered the most heartrending cries for her two children, whom she left behind. In her frantic efforts in the morning with her husband, who was trying to pacify her, she tore his shirt into shreds. It was a sad scene to witness this poor woman, who, only a few weeks ago, enjoyed the use of her reason, tied hand and foot in a close carriage, and taken to the institution at Carthage.

The insanity of the unfortunate lady is attributed to the use of laughing gas, which was administered to her a few weeks ago by a stupid dentist in the city, who extracted several of her teeth. She was of a very nervous temperament, and, when it was found that the nitrous oxide had produced an injurious effect, a potion was administered to quiet her nerves, which, however, had no beneficial effect. Since that time she has been growing worse daily, and this, coupled with the fact that she had been troubled with the unsolicited attentions of certain religious fanatics, pressing her to join their church and have her children educated in the faith of their peculiar religion, no doubt caused her insanity.

Destruction of Works of Art.

By the destruction of Holker Hall, one of the seats of the Duke of Devonshire, which was burned on the 10th of March, several valuable works of art have been lost. The London Times says:

Over the fire place in the entrance hall was a fine specimen of oak carving of the time of James I., which is entirely destroyed. Paintings of Queen Mary, wife of William III., Lord Coventry, Lord Lonsdale, Sir John Lowther, Admiral Penn, Lord Douglas, Lord Russell, and Lady Rachel Russell also perished in the flames. In the corridor the portraits of the second Duke of Devonshire, by Sir Godfrey Kneller; Louis XIV., James I., Thomas Hobbes, Charles II., by Ruley; Nell Gwynne, by Sir Peter Lely; James II., and a fine painted window containing all the armorial bearings of the family, from the first Preston of Holker to the present duke, have been burnt. Fortunately there were saved by extraordinary exertions the "Repose in Egypt," by Claude Lorraine; the "Temple to the Muses," by the same artist, the celebrated sea pieces by Vernet, the "Storm" and "Calm;" "St. Francis," by Cigoli; "Shipping," by Vandervele; "A Venetian Nobleman," by Tintoretto; Landscapes by Rubens, Hobbena, and Wouvermans. Some of the marbles and statuary were saved, but the oak pannelling and carving, and family relics, which cannot be replaced, were irrevocably lost.

Wonderful Success of the Burdett.

There seems to be no exaggeration in the wonderful things attributed to the Burdett Organ, if we are to judge from the number sold by Kleber & Bro. Some half a dozen of them have been disposed of since Thursday. The tone of the Burdett Organ is so touching and pathetic that even strong men have been known to shed tears at the performance thereon of some simple home melody. The Burdett furnishes the music for the heart—the true music, and no one has ever heard that instrument without feeling a strong desire to become the possessor of one of them. A refined and musical lady remarked that the "Bardett was the only instrument of its kind which deserved the name of 'Organ'—all other makes sounding in her ears like overgrown Accordeons." Any one interested in seeing this beautiful instrument will find them at the music store of H. Kleber & Bro., opposite the First National Bank.

A SUPPLEMENT—To an Ordinance entitled an Ordinance creating a Paid Fire Department for the City of Pittsburgh.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the Pittsburgh Fire Commissioners shall be, and are hereby, authorized to sell any and all real estate now held and owned by the city of Pittsburgh for the purposes of the Fire Department, which they may think proper to sell, in such manner, for such prices and upon such terms as they may consider for the best interests of the city. And the Mayor of the City is hereby authorized and empowered to make, execute and deliver a good and sufficient deed or deeds of conveyance, in the name of the City of Pittsburgh, with the Corporate Seal of said city duly attached, for any and all property so sold.

SEC. 2. Said Commissioners shall be, and are hereby, empowered to purchase, in the name of the city of Pittsburgh, any and all real estate which they may deem necessary for the use of said Department, and erect therein suitable buildings for the purposes aforesaid, and make and enter into contracts in the name of the city of Pittsburgh for the erection of said buildings. Provided that the entire cost of the real estate so purchased and the buildings to be erected thereon shall not exceed the amount of the purchase money of the property sold under the provisions of the first section of this ordinance.

SEC. 3. That said Fire Commissioners shall be, and are hereby, authorized and empowered to receive money derived from the sale of property under the provisions of this ordinance, and to appropriate the same to the purchase of real estate and erection of buildings, as provided in the second section hereof; and in case any of the property sold by them shall be sold upon terms of deferred payments, they shall be and are hereby authorized to dispose of the securities taken therefor for cash, or to use them in payment of the purchase money of property purchased, or the cost of the erection of buildings as aforesaid; and the Mayor of the City is authorized to make and execute, in the name of the City of Pittsburgh, all assignments, transfers or acquittances which may be necessary to carry into effect the sales or agreements so made.

SEC. 4. Said Commissioners shall, at the time of making their regular report to council, return therewith a complete and detailed statement of the property sold and purchased, and contracts for buildings and of the moneys received and expended, under the provisions of this ordinance.

SEC. 5. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the passage of this ordinance at the present time, be, and the same is hereby, repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.

HEADQUARTERS
REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE
Of Pennsylvania,
No. 1105 Chestnut Street,
PHILADELPHIA, January 23, 1871.

In pursuance of the Resolution of the Republican State Central Committee, adopted at Altoona, August 16, 1870, a State Convention, composed of delegates from each Senatorial and Representative District in the number to which each district is entitled in the Legislature, will meet in the Hall of the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg, at 12 o'clock, noon, on the 17th DAY of MAY, A. D. 1871, to nominate candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General, and to take action upon the question of Constitutional Reform, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before it.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 47½.

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 110¼@110⅜.

AS AN evidence of the charity of the Republican party, we note the fact that no less than twenty ex-Confederate officers occupy seats in the Forty-second Congress, and of these fifeeen are Democrats.

AN ELECTION will be held in Connecticut on Monday for State officers and Congressmen. On Tuesday, Michigan holds an election for a Judge of the Supreme Court, Regents of the State University, and also for one member of Congress from the Fourth District, to fill the place of Mr. Ferry. On Wednesday, Rhode Island will hold a State election.

EX-SECRETARY WELLES, has published a letter, declaring that any United States law assuming to take cognizance of, and to punish offences by the Ku-Klux organizations is "unwarranted, unconstitutional, centralizing and revolutionary." It is a sin and a shame to rouse up the old gentleman to such wrath and to force him into a vigorous activity so totally foreign to his nature. He has however made the most of it while he was awake, and we suppose now having surfeited himself will take another nap.

IF SENATOR SUMNER'S speech is correct in its details, and if we have been oppressing a foreign Government for a year past and actually levying illegal war against Hayti, how does it happen that the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations never knew a word about it until after the removal of Motley. Or if he did know all about it, how does it happen nothing was said until he was relieved of his position as Chairman of that Committee. Mr. Sumner can probably answer both questions.

A MISSOURI CONSERVATIVE REPUBLICAN PAPER, says the World, states that should the Democrats nominate Hendricks and Adams, they will sweep half the Republican party into their ranks. Independent of the fact that the aforesaid Conservative journal has not the most remote idea of what Republicanism is, the Democratic party will not nominate Mr. Hendricks. It gave him a half chance without ever intending he should be successful in 1868, and though it may play with him in 1872, it will not give him the nomination.

THE SAN DOMINGO COMMISSION have delayed sending in their report, through a determination to make it more minute and extended in its details, than was originally intended. It is still urged that no action will be taken upon it by Congress, but that it will probably be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations. We hope that such a course may be taken, because we are satisfied that our citizens are in no condition of mind, either to have the effort summarily choked to death, or suddenly acted on by being favorably endorsed by the Senate. A few weeks delay cannot possibly work any injury, while it will give an opportunity for every one ot read the report, and arrive at some intelligent conclusion on the subject. Any effort to act in the matter at once will, we think, be a very grave mistake.

THEODORE STURGES, the brother of Major William Sturges of Meridian, Mississippi, who it will be remembered was compelled to leave the South, has published a card in one of the Meridian papers, in which he states that he don't believe his brothers story, and that he (Theodore) has been uniformly treated with great kindness by the people of that community, and that he is very grateful to them for it. We have no doubt Theodore is grateful, but it does look a little as if he was afraid he would be the next victim, and had adopted this plan to forestall any malicious action against him. We can hardly account in any other way for a brother branding a brother as a liar, without having been called upon to do so by some extreme necessity. We are inclined to believe that the extreme necessity in this case is fear and nothing else.

DEMOCRATIC SENATE.

The Democratic party is digging its own grave as fast as it is possible for any party to do. Every day, almost every hour, the people are learning the lesson, that notwithstanding all its promises and protests, it is still the same old revolutionary party that hissed the loyal soldiers of the Government, and applauded the victories of the Confederates. Wherever it lays its hand, a law is violated. The few successes it has gained within the past year, have only enabled it to teach the country its true character, and to mark it as totally unfitted for government. It has made no difference where those successes have been achieved, the result has been, in every instance, the malicious trampling upon all law, peace, and good order. Whether we turn to the South or to the North, success with that party has secured the same end. Whether we regard the terrible increase of crime and murder of loyal Southern men, or whether we turn to Indiana, Pennsylvania or New York, we see the same malignant, devlish spirit, prompting and ruling all their actions.

In our own State the Democratic Senate commenced with high-handed usurpations totally unknown heretofore, and to-day, that same Senate is stealing money from the Treasury, and refusing to do the legitimate work that belongs to that body. No less than four weekly Calendars remain untouched, and every effort to pass a bill or to call it up, is defeated by a strict Democratic vote. The excuse given is only commendable by reason of its unblushing effrontery. The Senate Apportionment bill, will not be passed in the House. Because a separate and distinct branch of legislation does not choose to pass a bill originating in the Senate, Democracy refuses to act on any House bill, or indeed on any bill at all. Here is an effort to force the House into measures, and to do so, the Senate meets day after day, idles away the time, and pockets the people's money. This is Democracy. Law-abiding, law-loving, constitutional Democracy. Its acts are as moral and upright as a till-tapper, and no more. From present appearances there will be a rupture between the two Houses. Heretofore the House has gone on, legitimately discharging its business, acting on all the bills, and doing the best it could under the circumstances. We see, however, that a caucus has been held, and some kind of an agreement entered into by the Republicans. What the exact nature of that agreement may be we do not pretend to know, but that it points towards retributive justice is most certain. Democracy, heretofore, could get its private bills passed through. We see that Mr Buckalew's bill for cumulative voting in elections of borough councils, managed somehow or other to get through the Senate, and to the House. The agreement on the part of Republicans is in all probability, that in the future the House of Representatives will take care of these bills, and that the chalice so freely thrust upon Republicans, by Democracy in the Senate, will be commended to its own lips. We are not at all certain that even this retribution is right and proper, but it seems to be the only way to deal with men, who have shown a total disregard for all law, and a determination to force a separate Legislative branch, to favorably pass a Senate Apportionment Bill. This Dead Lock in the Legislature, arising as it does among, and being directly chargeable to the Democrats of the Senate, will rise in judgment against them in the State hereafter.

STATE ELECTIONS.

We do not regard the election in Connecticut, the coming week, as fraught with any positive intimation of the Republican future. While we believe that Republicanism will triumph in that State, in spite of the money to bribe and buy that Tammany has spread broadcast, yet should there be a Democratic victory, it will not, in our opinion, be a harbinger of the future election in 1872. The contest in that year will be one overflowing with excitement, and the issues will be so plainly defined, that all questions regarding their vitality, will be thoroughly determined by the issues themselves.

Already Democracy has pointed out the course it intends pursuing, and led on by some frantic idea, it seems utterly blind to the fact that those issues are certain to secure a Republican victory. It was a matter of but little moment, that some ill-starred, ill-conditioned Southern Confederate, led on with the hope of notoriety, should declare that the future of the South was to be a war against the reconstruction measures. These threats were idly regarded, or if heeded at all, were laughed at. Mr. Frank Blair, however, was made the representative man in 1868, and the doctrine of nullifying reconstruction became a cardinal principle with the Democracy in that campaign, and the Republicans gained an easy victory. Lately Blair has again renewed his old Brodhead letter, and still later, probably with the hope of confusing the people and amending in a measure the supreme folly of his act, he has endeavored to explain away the revolutionary principles embodied in his declaration in Congress.

But this attempt has been of no avail. Jefferson Davis, who has been almost politically unknown for years, but who has been enshrined in Southern hearts, and homes as the arch-rebel of the South, once more steps to the front, and laying aside all his reserve, boldly announces the fact, that he expects to live to see the Southern doctrine of States rights vindicated.

It is not to be expected that the Southern friends of the old rebel President, will turn their hearts against the hopes thus raised, or that Jefferson Davis has made this declaration, without being fully cognizant that it will meet with warm commendation all over the South. He has not based this opinion on mere surmise, but he has been governed in a great measure, by what he knows to be Southern sentiment and Southern feeling. Such a declaration from his lips, is nothing less, than a rebel expression of Southern determination. Toombs and Stephens, in all probability, were the little messengers sent in advance to sound the breadth and depth of popular Southern sentiment, while Davis, satisfied that he is standing on tenable ground so far as the South is regarded, makes his speech and endorses their assertions. Blair, therefore, in the Senate, is doing nothing, but mouthing over what has been dictated to him by his master, and what he believes the South requires of him.

This, then, will be the issue of 1872, and it will be sufficient to rally Republicans as a unit around a loyal standard, as in days gone by. There will undoubtedly collateral questions spring into a short lived existence. But they will be powerless to affect the result of the Democracy clinging to the issue it has already chosen. To allow Democracy, under such circumstances to seize the reins of the National government would be suicidal. With the power of the government in their hands, and ruled and governed by such a determination as is now generally expressed, there is no doubt, that our country would be involved in a second civil war. Already a state of affairs exists in the South that can be called by no other name than rebellion to the general government. Citizens of the United States are murdered for no other reason, than that they are loyal. It is not hard to conceive what would be the effect if those knaves were backed by the general government, as they would and will be, should Democracy triumph in 1872. It is not hard to conceive what would be the condition of all loyal Southern men to-day, if Jefferson Davis' doctrine was carried out.

These facts cannot be hidden from the people; and the local State elections going on around us, let them result as they may, will not foretell a Democratic triumph in 1872. At that time the actions of the Democracy will have united the Republicans in one common cause, and the party will present an undivided front against a common enemy of the government.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Presbyterian, in a lengthy editorial on the "Churches in the United States," shows that the Evangelical churches of the United States make about 5,400,000 communionists, being nearly one seventh of the inhabitants of the land, estimating the population at 38,535,163. It is supposed that one-half the population of the land are under twenty years of age, and that forty per cent. of them are under fifteen years of age. In the further discussion of the question, special reference is made to the progress of Presbyterianism and Methodism, in which statistics aro given to show that Methodism had its prodigious growth in this land in its earliest years, while Presbyterianism, on the other hand, grew slowly in the last century; and though its advance this century has not been startling in numbers from year to year, its increase by decades has been very decided and steady. It thinks there is more substantial harmony between the Methodist and Presbyterian than between any other two denominations, and it especially rejoices in each other's work, and generously says it will not feel jealous of the numerical superiority of their Methodist bretheren. It gives also the important fact, as a power to be felt on infidelity, immorality and every species of error in religion that the various branches of the two denominations united present communion rolls of over three million names. Add to these the children that they have in their Sabbath Schools, and the families which the communionists and the children bring more or less directly under their influence, and the truth is demonstrated of its molding power over error and vice.

The action of the Trustees of the "Baptist Home" in the city of New York, in "accepting" a gratiuty from the State "in aid of an institution purely sectarian," has aroused much feeling in the Baptist Church, as well as in other religious bodies. Fifteen Baptist ministers in Brooklyn have signed an earnest protest in which it is stated, they are unwilling that this act should be regarded as "representing the Baptist denomination." An effort is making to get the patrons and trustees of the Baptist Home to reconsider their action, and to return to the Common Council what it is alleged they had no moral right to bestow.

Much comment is made upon the course of Dr Lewis, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Washington city, for refusing to solemnize the marriage of the daughter of Chief Justice Chase, because it was the Lenten season, which Bishop McIlvaine, the oldest in office but one of the Episcopal Bench, cheerfully consented to do.

Frequently the remark had been made, the mission work among the seamen and boatmen upon our waters, especially when efforts are put forth to raise money to sustain these missions, that not much good is accomplished, considering the outlay of money, and the amount of labor performed to bring them to Christ. Occasionally, however, facts of much interest come to the surface, and serve to illustrate the grand work being accomplished among these much neglected men. A ship-master, who had been brought to a knowledge of his fallen condition at the Port Society Mission, Water street, New York, represents that at a revival at Eastport, Maine, six seamen out of twenty persons, baptized and received into the church, dated their conversion to the serious impressions they had received in the meetings of the New York Port Society.

The Independent says that there are now on the roll of the Baptist Theological Institute and University at Washington City, eighty or more promising young men, most of whom are preparing for the ministry.

Quite a season of religious interest prevails at the Middle Reformed Church, in Brooklyn, Rev. E. P. Ingersoll, pastor. Last Saturday nearly one hundred members were received on profession of faith.

Rev. Wilbur Fisk Watkins, for twelve years a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was ordained to the Deaconate of the Episcopal Church, on Septuagesima Sunday. He bears the name of Wilbur Fisk, who was the first distinguished educator in the Methodist Church, and was elected a Bishop, but refused to be ordained, believing it was his duty to advance the cause of education in that Church.

Recent intelligence represents that the Cumberland Presbyterians are pressing their work in Colorado with vigor.

The Presbytery of Dayton (Presbyterian) have appointed a committee to look after feeble churches, without pastors, and aid them to secure proper ministerial services and assure them of the interest the Presbytery take in their welfare.

Presbyterianism seems to prosper upon the Pacific coast, judging from the accounts from San Francisco. St John's church, Rev. Dr. Scott pastor, organized one year ago, has now one hundred and fifty-six on the roll. Much prosperity also exists in the Central Presbyterian church of that city, fifty one members having been added within four months.

The mission connected with the Second Moravian church, Philadelphia, have had quite a season of revival, resulting in the addition of fifty members.

Unusual prosperity has attended the First English Lutheran church, at Dayton, Ohio. The Presbyterian says the number of additions during the last two years reach two hundred and eighty, and the aggregate membership at present is six hundred and thirty.

At the rate the Church Extension Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church is growing, taking the success of five years of its existence as a basis, it will get three hundred thousand dollars by the end of its tenth year. Rev. Dr. Kynette, the Corresponding Secretary and Chaplain McCabe, the General Agent, are live men, and popularize its interests by the able manner in which its operations are conducted.

The Advance of Chicago, brings to notice the announcement in an eastern paper of a "Grand Pillow Case Masquerade," to be given "under the direction of the First (Unitarian) Parish Entertainment Committee, at Music Hall." The reader is assured that "only members of the Society and those whom they invite are expected to participate in the dance." "Dancing Tickets" are offered at 50 cents and "Spectator's" tickets 25 cents. We have reason to know that many Unitarians are bitterly opposed to such things.

Recent word from Bishop Tuttle, of the Episcopal Church, reports that his parish in Salt Lake City, is now self-supporting and the work elsewhere in Utah territory going forward hopefully.

CIVILIZATION IN DELAWARE.

Unexampeled Brutality--An Ignorant Girl Robbed of Her Freedom--Brutally Treated--Turned out to Die--Ten Cents for a Lifetime's Labor.

[From the Wilmington Commercial.]

NEW CASTLE, Del, March 27.—Last Thursday three weeks ago, a colored girl, calling herself Lydia Pouse, came to this place in the afternoon up-train from Seaford. She evidently had consumption, and her feet were so badly frozen that she was scarcely able to walk. They were laid open in great gashes, and swollen twice their natural size. Her hands were in the same condition. She was an entire stranger in the place, knowing no one. She crawled to a little store near the depot, and spent her ten cents for cakes. The wife of a colored man named Samuel Craig took pity on her, and she was kindly cared for until this morning, when she died.

Her statement was as follows: That she was a slave, and did not know she was free until the morning she came to New Castle. She belonged to Mr. ——, a farmer, who owns and lives on his farm about a mile and a half from Seaford, Delaware, he having purchased her and a brother in Leipsic when they were children. She says he afterwards sold her brother, and she never knew what became of him. Her mother died about four years ago. She worked as a farm hand, husked corn last fall, and this winter was sent to the woods to cut timber, when her hands and feet were frozen. Becoming so ill that she was unable to work, Mr. —— told her the morning of her departure that she was free, and had better go up the country and get a home, put her in his carriage and took her to the depot. Did not buy a ticket, but paid the conductor two dollars and twenty-five cents, requesting him to leave her at New Castle. Gave her ten cents, requesting her "when she got better to come back and see them."

This is her statement. She seems to think it very strange that he sent her off when she was sick, and as she made it when she first came, she reiterated it in the morning before she died. Arrangements have been made to give her a decent burial in colored people's lot in the Methodist Church graveyard. As you have correspondents at Seaford, please make some inquiries about Mr. ——. The citizens here are very indignant at his conduct, and if her statement be true, he ought to be "handed round."

[Our correspondent furnishes us with the name of the farmer in question, but we withhold it for the present, hoping that there may be some room for doubting that such a wretch actually disgraces humanity.—Editors Commercial.

Mechanical Calm Restorer.

An ingenious Frenchman has just hit upon a very happy invention, which cannot fail to be immediately tested at Rome, and which ought, thereafter, to claim the immediate attention of the Congress of the United States. It is called a "mechanical calm restorer," and is intended to introduce into public meetings "a voluntary discipline indispensable to freedom of discussion." The inventor maintains that the use of the voice or bell or hammer by a chairman is essentially defective—first, because they fail to make noise enough, and second, because in a greater or less degree they betray the impatience of the person employing them, and can hardly fail to excite it. An instrument which is at once passionless, self-registering, and calculated to make a dreadful din, combines the requisites of moral and material influence. Should the president of a popular assembly experience the slightest difficulty in obtaining the needful silence, he has but to open the box containing the calm restorer, set the hand of an exposed dial in motion, and at the end of each revolution of one minute there is produced a noisy peal of bells sounding for a few seconds, and most effectually drowning every other sound in the room. During this operation the session is considered as suspended, and by registering the number of revolutions an accurate idea can be obtained of the extent of disorder, and the consequent loss of time.

WHEN, on the 31st of March, 1814, the Prussian Guards entered Paris, the band of the First Regiment played the Grand March, "Entrance to Paris," which, for some reason, speedily became so popular with the bonnes of Paris that they presented this band with a heavy silver trumpet, inlaid with gold, and ornamented with a silk cord and tassels. Upon it were engraved these words: "The Servant Girls of Paris to the Band of the First Regiment of Prussian Guards, in remembrance of the 31st of March, 1814." This trumpet is still the property of the regiment, and is reserved for reviews and grand military festivals. It has been repeatedly altered to suit the requirements of modern usage, but is still as good as new.

SCIENTIFIC.

A BLAST of four tons of gunpowder was lately fired in the quarries of Borraw, in Scotland. An electric fuse was used, and the quantity of rock displaced was computed to be eighty thousand tons.

ACCIDENTS from coal oil explosions are caused by the ignition, not of the heavy oil, but of the light oil—the naphtha, benzine, gasoline, etc.—that remains in the heavy oil from imperfect refining. It explodes and sets fire to the latter.

A GREEN powder used by coffee dealers to color coffee berries, has been analyzed, and the analysis, which is published in the Medical Gazette, shows it to contain fifteen per cent. of Prussian blue and thirty-five per cent. of chromate of lead.

THE process of producing colors from coal tar, which is generally regarded as comparatively a very recent discovery, is stated by a writer in the Chemical News to have been known to Jassmeyer, professor of chemistry in Vienna, as early as the year 1816. His secret of extracting and preparing the colors he carried into his grave.

SPONGEY iron as a material for filters is strongly recommended by Dr. Voelcker, as superior even to animal charcoal. It will completely deodorize and purify sewage water, some of which, after having been passed through it, and having been kept six months protected from the air, was perfectly sweet and free from fungus growth.

THE investigation of blood stains is the subject of a paper in a recent number of a German chemical journal of high rank. The writer rejects the usual chemical tests as unsatisfactory, and also regards the microscope as in many cases failing to afford us sufficient information by which to determine the kind of blood under examination.

AN enormous crab, a specimen of the most gigantic of these creatures known to science, has lately come into the possession of the British Museum. Its habitat is Japan, where it is said to be used for food. It measures ten feet between the tips of the claws, but has a comparatively small body, of a triangular shape. The claws, including the pincers, are six feet in length.

M. ROST has made a material suited to a variety of purposes by mixing protoxide of lead (litharge) and glycerine so that they form a creamy liquid. In a short time the mixture becomes a hard and homogenous mass, which readily adheres to metal and resists the action of water and steam, and is not reduced by a temperature of 527 degrees F. It is a valuable cement, and, in the fluid state, may be used in galvano-plastic copying.

AN article in Dingler's Polytechnic Journal gives a process for utilizing leather shavings and scraps. They are first cleansed, then soaked in water containing 1 per cent of sulphuric acid until the material becomes soft and plastic, and afterward compressed into blocks and dried by steam. In order to soften the blocks one pound of glycerine is added to 100 pounds of material; they are then passed through rollers, and brought to the proper thickness to be used as inner soles of boots and shoes.

THE Bombay Zoological Garden is one of the very few natural history museums in the world, if indeed it is not the only one, which can boast the possession of two crocodiles. So, at least, we infer from an article in the Athenæum, where the hope is expressed that Bombay may long retain a monopoly of those interesting reptiles. Their habits are undoubtedly worthy of study; but they have a taste for babies and puppy dogs, and will take a baby from the hands of a nurse maid as an elephant in a menagerie will take a bun.

THE old saying, "Eat till you're cold and you'll live till you're old," is physiologically true; a flushed hot skin during digestion being an unhealthy sign. Prof. M. Foster, in his late lectures on the nutrition of animals, delivered at the Royal Institution in London, commented on this fact, saying that while digestion is proceeding, there is an enormous flow of blood to the organs which supply the requisite fluids, while the rest of the body is nearly bloodless and should be at rest. It would appear from this that exercise immediately after a hearty meal is deleterious and ought to be avoided.

THE Sultan of Bornu, a district around Lake Chad, in Central Africa, having rendered valuable services to the German travelers, Barth, Vogel and others, in their African exploration, King William of Prussia sent him a number of presents in recognition of his kindness by Dr. Nachtigal, a special messenger. Intelligence has reached Europe of his safe arrival at Kuka, the capital, after a long and perilous journey across the Sahara desert, in the hot season. The harmonium, which was one of the gifts, suffered so much from the heat and dryness as to be able to produce only the most dismal discords.

A SCIENTIFIC Persian, who resides at Tabreez in the empire of the Shah recently got himself into difficulty by predicting a fearful earthquake which was to destroy the city. As he was distinguished in the art of astrology, which is extensively cultivated in Persia, his predictions excited the fears of His Imperial Highness the Prince Governor and other notables, and accordingly tehese eminent personages camped out in tents during the severe winter weather, to avoid the coming catastrophe. It failed to come, however; but fortunately for the man of science, he succeeded in making his escape before the time which he fixed for it had passed.

COLORED candies purchased from various dealers have recently been examined by the assistant Chemist of the New York Health Department, with a view to the detection of poisonous adulterations. Red coloring matters were found to be either carmine or aniline red, both harmless. Greens were found also to be harmless although the public is recommended to beware of highly colored green candies; but one half the yellows examined were found colored with poison, generally chromate of lead or gamboge. Among the flavoring ingredients it was found that oil of peppermint is often adulterated with oil of turpentine and that the other flavors are generally artificial eithers, many of which are considered injurious.

MR. C. R. MOORE, of Washington, D. C., during the first four and last three months of 1870, made a series of observations of sound which gave unexpected results. The sources of sound were the guns of Fortress Monroe (distant about forty miles from Prospect Hill, the point of observation), and Sue's Whistle at Cherry Stone (thirteen miles distant), and at Hungar's Wharf (eight miles distant), all in a south-westerly direction from the point of observation. During the months when the intervening woods were in full foliage, the sounds were almost or entirely lost. A table, giving for 44 observations the intensity of sound and the force and direction of the wind, shows that sounds of maximum intensity were heard when the wind was blowing from the north, as well as from the north-east and north-west. The cause of the progress of sound against the wind is unexplained; but it is probable that had barometrical and hygrometrical observations been also made, some clue would have been found to the cause of this curious result.

Fred. Douglass and San Domingo.

The Washington Republican of this morning gives an account of an interview between one of its attaches and Mr. Frederick Douglass, as follows:

Fred. Douglass was enthusiastic in favor of annexation. Speaking of Senator Sumner, he said: "He is now the greatest enemy of the colored race. The arm of Democratic hate raised to strike at the liberties of our people finds its inspiration in the utterances of Senator Sumner. He has been the object of my greatest admiration, but he is now doing the work of our most implacable foe—the Democratic party."

Mr. Douglass is satisfied with Dominica, and believes it would be a valuable acquisition to this country. Speaking of Hayti, he said it was no wonder its people were incensed against us. For over fifty years we refused to recognize them as belonging to the sisterhood of nations, and Henry A. Wise, in the House of Representatives, declared he should forever oppose the recognition of "these slaves" made men by freedom. Our conduct in the past towards Hayti has little in it to recommend us to their regards.

The Lowest Type of Humanity.

The following extract is from an article on "Barbarism and Civilization," in the Atlantic Monthly:

On the Island of Borneo there has been found a certain race of wild creatures, of which kindred varieties have been discovered in the Phillippine Islands, in Terra del Fuego and in South America. They walk usually almost erect on two legs, and in that attitude measure about four feet in height. They are dark, wrinkled and hairy. They construct no habitation, form no families, scarcely associate together, sleep in caves or trees, feed on snakes and vermin, on ants' eggs, on mice and on each other. They cannot be tamed or forced to any labor, and are hunted and shot among the trees like the great gorilla, of which they are a stunted copy. When they are captured alive one finds to his surprise that their uncouth jabbering sounds like articulate language. They turn up a human face to gaze at their captor, and a female shows instincts of modesty. Are these wretched beings human?

WHAT BURNS OFFERS THE PUBLIC.

JAMES E. BURNS & CO., corner Penn and Sixth streets, has one of the most complete drug and perfumery stores in the two cities, and his stock is always fresh and serviceable. He has now in store a full supply of St. Louis Michigan water, Hathom Congress Water, and High Rock Congress Water, together with a superior assortment of fine toilet articles and perfumery in great variety. He has also a very desirable stock of English and Scotch ales and pure liquors for medicinal purposes. Crown Jewels and Golden Drops are only sold by Burns & Co., corner Penn and Sixth streets.

THE PUREST AND SAFEST.

The efficacy of Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind, has passed into a proverb. In the United States, where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition, and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that the pharmacopœia of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as Hostetter's Bitters. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York. "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a preparatory antidote to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of Hostetter's Bitters. It is the household tonic of the American people, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proven by its vast and ever increasing sales.

SELLERS'
Imperial Cough Syrup

Has given relief to thousands who have used it, and the proprietor is persuaded that it has the power to impart benefit that cannot be claimed for the cough mixtures in general use.

Most of the mixtures sold for coughs are composed of spirituous and inflammatory articles, which, while they give little relief, really do harm.

THE IMPERIAL COUGH SYRUP.
Contains no spirituous ingredients whatever, and may be used in all cases not requiring active medical treatment.

SAVE FUEL,
BY USING THE
Wellman Patent Reflector
STOVE AND GRATE.
Which Stand Without a Rival.

The WELLMAN STOVE is furnished with the "REFLECTOR GRATE," and possesses all the advantages of an open fire place; it is specially adapted to houses where the flues are too small to admit a grate, and affords all the comforts of a CHEERFUL OPEN FIRE.
1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity of any other grate.
2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—no soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.
3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.
4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.
5th. It is highly ornamental.
6th. It is set so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to puff in windy weather.
7th. A slight motion of the shaker cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.
Samples may be seen and references had at the store of W. BARNES, corner of 3d avenue and Market street, Pittsburgh; W. F. GOODWIN, 66 Federal street, Allegheny, or at the FOUNDRY, corner Duquesne Way and Water street, Pittsburgh.
Parties who are building, or who contemplate changing Grates, are respectfully requested to examine "The Wellman." Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints. Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 296 PENN STREET.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 31, 1871.

The local money market is without features of special interest. The demand for loans to-day were less pressing than earlier in the week, and may presage a turn in the tide towards easier times for borrowers. The amount of paper upon the street is evidently lessening and the demand at bank counters is reported as declining. The general trade of the city is spoken of quite good, indeed one of our constitutional croakers to-day "allowed that trade was really pretty fair, and upon the whole satisfactory.

The business in local stocks continues light, and quotations nominal.

Allegheny Valley 7-30's were in demand at 89¾@90.

Several small lots of bank shares were offered during the day, and found buyers at previous quotations.

There was also some inquiry for Columbia oil stock at $18 per share, and the stock was offered for sale in small amounts at 18.50.

The striking feature in the New York market is the sudden turn upwards in United States Bonds. The new loan is moving off so steadily and rapidly indeed, that it is beginning to have the effect upon the old issues. A rise in "five per cents," has a like effect upon all classes of sixes, as the latter can be at any time converted into the new loan. The foreign demand for the 5 per cents has been the exciting cause of to-day's advance.

The railway list is firm and moderately active at a small advance upon our quotations yesterday. Express stocks were heavy all day and closed nearly one per cent off.

Robinson Bros., No. 78 Fourth avenue, furnish the following comparative quotations of bonds and stocks, from their latest advices by wire:

NEW YORK, March 31, 1871.

Gold opened dull at 110⅝@110¾, but at the close was strong, with 110⅝ bid. Governments were buoyant, and the entire list has advanced from ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. The Post says the new impetus given to refunding the 5-20s by the enlistment of active services of one or two leading dealers in Government bonds is the only reason assigned for this decided change in the tone of the market. The inference which the street draws from this action of the leading houses referred to, is that the 5-20s will be advanced above par in gold. The stock market opened strong in Vanderbilt shares with the remainder of the list steady. Late in the day the whole market became buoyant. The most active were Terre Haute, New Jersey Central, Northwest, New York Central, Hudson and Adams Express, the latter though not quite so high in price, is very strong.

Money is easy at 4 per cent. The indications are that the combination recently formed here has concluded to abandon their intention of affecting an artificial stringency. Southern State securities on last call were firmer; the chief features of the list were Virginias and Tennessees. Sterling Exchange 9¾.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 31, 1871.

APPLE BUTTER—Quoted 75@80 cts per gallon for prime to choice.

ASHES—Market almost bare of Soda Ash. Pearls unchanged at 9@9⅛, and Pots at 7⅛@7⅜.

APPLES—The market is almost bare of good sound apples, and they would readily sell at $5, perhaps $6, per bbl. Unsound are not wanted, and are hard to sell at any price.

BROOM CORN—The demand is rather better but prices remain unchanged; sale 40 bales at 6 cts.

BEANS—In good supply and light request; may be quoted at $1,50@2 per bushel.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand for strictly prime and the market is almost bare; may be quoted at 33@35. Common is dull and in good supply.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 28@30 cts.

CANNED FRUITS—The demand continues light but an early improvement is now expected.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands may be quoted at 21½@22—usual advance for small lots. The tendency is downward in sympathy with crude.

CHEESE—New York Goshen, is quoted at 18½@19. Market almost bare of Ohio Cheese.

CORNMEAL—Small sales of prime yellow at 85@90cts per bushel.

CANDLES—Quoted at 12 cts for mould, and 19 for star.

CEMENT—Sales Louisville Hydraulic at $3@3½, and Calcined Plaster at $4½ per bbl.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at $12@17 per bbl, according to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches, 10@10½; mixed, 11@12 and halves, 13@14. Apples, 6@8 cts, as to quality. Blackberries, 12@13 cts.

EGGS—The receipts are again on the increase, but with a steady demand prices are well maintained. 15@16; we were reported sales at both figures to-day. The prospects at present are not favorable for much of an advance, and those parties who have been holding in expectation of big figures will be disappointed.

FEATHERS—We are reported sales of No 1 live geese feathers, to the trade, at 72; may be quoted at 80 in small lots.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and unchanged. We continue to quote at $6.75@7.00 for good spring extras; $7.25 for choice Minnesota baker's flour; $6.75@7.00 for red winter wheat; and $7.25@7.50 for white. Rye Flour, small lots, in store, $6.00.

GRAIN—Wheat is in fair milling demand at quotations, $1,40@1,43 for good to prime red, and $1,50@1,53 for white. There is less inquiry from Philadelphia, and there are but few buyers now aside from the mills; the receipts within the last few days have been larger than usual. Oats steady but unchanged: 55@56, buying, and 57@58, selling—small lots, in store, 60. The demand is hardly as brisk as it was a few weeks ago, and some dealers are inclined to think that for the present at least, the top has been reached, though there is no prospect of a decline, as the stock in the country is reported as being very much reduced. Corn is quiet and unchanged, 70@72, on wharf and track, the supply is light and the demand is not as brisk as it has been recently. Rye unchanged at $1,05 with continued light receipts. Barley dull and nominally, at 80@85 for spring, and 90@95 for fall.

GROCERIES—The grocery market is fairly active but devoid of anything new or important. Following are the ruling quotations:

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 20; Prime, 19; Good, 18; Fair, 17; Roasting, 16@16½.

SYRUPS AND DRIPS — White Honey, 65; Havemyer & Elders, 72; Silver Drips, 60; Loverings, 63; other grades, 45@55.

SUGARS—Choice New Orleans, 11¾; prime, 10¾ good, 10; fully fair, 10; Porto Rico Sugars 10¾@11¾; Cuba, 10@11; Demarara, 11¾@12¾.

REFINED SUGARS—Hard Sugars, 13¾; A Coffee, 12¾; "B," 12½; Extra C, 12⅜; C. yellow 12¼.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, choice, 70; prime, 68; good, 65.

TEAS—Fancy Young Hyson, $1 40; Good, $1 10; Fair, $1. Lower grades down to 70cts. G. P. Fancy, $1 50; good, $1 25; fair, $1 10; Imperial Fancy, $1 40; good, $1 25; fair, $1; Oolong fancy, $1 25; good, 80cts; fair, 60@70c; Souchong fancy, $1 20; good, 90c; fair, 70@80c, Japan Fancy, $1; good, 90c; fair, 75c.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9½c; prime, 9c; good, 8½c.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 21c. Pimento, 17c. Cloves, 20c. Cassia, 55c.

FOREIGN FRUITS—Currants, 11½@12 cents. Prunes, 12½c. Valencia Raisins, 15c. Layer Raisins, $3,25 per box.

HAY—Sold in Allegheny to-day, from country wagons, at $14@20, an advance, in consequence of a temporary scarcity.

HEMP—Sales of 12 bales Kintucky at $175 per ton.

HONEY—Continues dull and cannot be quoted above 25@30 cts.

HOMINY—$5,00@5,50 per bbl; Pearl, $6,00@6,25.

HUSKS—Quoted at 2½@2¾ cts.

HIDES—Green salted (all weights) 10½@11½; green butchers (cow and steer) 7@8; green salted kip 14@16; do calf, 16@18 Dry.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $4,25 per bbl and eastern at $1,75.

MAPLE SYRUP—May be quoted at $1,70@1,75 in gallon jugs.

MILL FEED—There is considerably inquiry for light while for heavy the market is quiet. Bran may be quoted at $1,30@1,40 per cwt.

ONIONS—Dull and drooping and the great bulk of the offerings are in bad condition.

OILS—No 1 Lard Oil quoted at $1,08@1,10, and Linseed at 95@96.

PROVISIONS—Plain shoulders, 9@9¼; Sugar Cured do, 10¼; Ribbed Sides, 11¾; Clear Sides, 13¼; Sugar Cured Hams, 15¼. Prime kettle Lard, 12½ in tcs, and 13½ in buckets and kegs. Country lard, 11@12c. Mess Pork, $21@21,50. Dried Beef, 19@19½.

PEANUTS—8½@9 cts.

POTATOES—Continue to come quite freely and it begins to look as if the market would go lower; we continue to quote at $1 20@1,30 per bushel, in store. Prime Jersey Sweets, $5 per bbl.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is dull and offering freely; we continue to quote at $7—small lots, $7,25. Timothy Seed, $6,50@6,75. Flaxseed, $2,18@2,20.

SOAPS—Rosin, 3½@5 cts; Chemical Olive, 7½; Crampton's, 10; Wax, 8; Babbitts, 11; Woman's Friend, 9½; Dobbins, 14½; Kitchen Crystal, 10; Colgate's Palm, $4,75.

SUMAC—Sales Tennessee Sumac at 4½ cts.

TALLOW—Is dull and cannot be fairly quoted above 8½@8¾.

WILLOWS—Sales Kentucky willows at 10.

PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 31, 1871.

The Petroleum market continues dull and weak and, as compared with Thursday, both crude and refined are lower. It is a noticeable fact that, notwithstanding the decline in crude, there is no improvement in the demand; there are two causes for this, 1st, the impression is generally entertained that it will go still lower; and 2nd, refined has declined fully as much as crude, so that, in reality, the situation is no better to-day with crude at 10¾ than it was two or three weeks ago, when it was quoted at 11¾ and 11½. This being the last day of March, all seller options for the first three months of the year matured, and as there were a good many of them out, there must have been a pretty lively times in the oil regions making deliveries and settlements. Here, there were but few settlements to make, as there was but little oil to receive or deliver; the majority of the shorts, and there were but few of them, made their settlements some days ago. Compared with yesterday, there is a decline of 10 cts per bbl on the creek.

CRUDE.

Spot or seller April 10¾, with sales of 2,000 bbls reported. Seller until July, 10¾ bid; seller all the year, may be quoted at 10. At the close, 10¾, was bid for April, though there were but few buyers above 10. On the lower creek, $3.90 against $4 yesterday.

REFINED.

Dull and lower. Spot 22¾; April, 23¾c; May 24; June, 24¾; July 25—very little inquiry.

RECEIPTS OF CRUDE OIL.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, March 31, 1871.

The operations in crude irons have been comparatively light this week, and it is probable, in view of the heavy sales last week, that business will be comparatively light for some weeks to come. Many of the mills have contracted ahead pretty largely and will not, therefore, be in the market for some time, though the offerings will also be small, particularly of western irons, as the most of the furnaces are sold ahead. In regard to prices there is no quotable change, as compared with last week; good standard forge irons may be fairly quoted at $35.

The market for manufactured iron is reported slow, and orders do not seem to be coming in as freely as expected. Manufacturers complain of small margins, in consequence of crude irons being much higher relatively than manufactured, and it is generally conceded that they have good cause for complaint, while at the same time, there does not seem to be any remedy.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily with 6 feet in the channel. Cloudy with every appearance of rain.

Business continues slow but we are in hopes that there will soon be an improvement.

The arrivals since our last report include, Carrie Brooks from Zanesville, and the S. S. Merrill form Cincinnati. The Kate Putnam from Nashville is due.

The Wild Duck from St. Louis, with a cargo of iron ore is expected to reach this port on Monday or Tuesday.

The Collier and barges departed for St. Louis as did also the Shannon for New Orleans.

The Argosy departed for Wheeling, and the Granite State for Portsmouth.

The St. Charles was due from Cincinnati last night.

The S. S. Merrill is in all repects a very fine steamer; her cabins and saloons are large and elegantly furnished, and her state-rooms are all that could be desired. She is a bran new boat, having just been completed at Cincinnati, for the St. Louis and Upper Mississippi packet trade. This fine steamer is in command of Capt. A. M. Hutchinson, an old Upper Mississippi steamboatman, and is announced to depart for St. Paul on Tuesday next. She offers great inducements to families going west.

The Kate Putnam will in probability re-load for Nashville.

Capt. J. W. Anawalt, who has been quite sick for some days past, was able to be about again yesterday.

The E. H. Durfee arrived at St. Louis on Wednesday.

The Ironside barges are loading at the foot of Market street for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi. She is announced to depart on Wednesday, next.

The Exchange, Capt. A. C. McCallum, is announced for St. Louis.

Capt. John Woodburn is loading the St. Mary, at Cincinnati for Arkansas river.

—The following letter from Gen. Nathan Ranney we find in Tuesday's St. Louis Republican: The Johnson, built in 1818, was named after Col. James Johnson, government contractor. She was one of the boats in the famous Yellowstone expedition, starting from St. Louis, July 4th, 1819. The Johnson, the Java and Oregon were the steamers employed by the government in this expedition; but they were finally displaced by keelboats about 200 miles up the river, except the Oregon, which reached Council Bluffs the ensuing spring. Col. Long's exploring steamer, the Western Engineer, preceded the expedition; she escaped her steam through the image of a huge serpent at the stem of the boat level with the deck, and was a wonder and astonishment to the savages along the river. This boat was suitable only for passengers, but was a success in the government service. The undersigned returned to St. Louis on her to purchase supplies for the troops in 1820, which supplies were shipped in keelboats, no suitable steamers to be had.

—The Vicksburg Times speakes of a bill that has just been passed by the Mississippi Legislature incorporating the Pearl River Improvement and Navigation Company. It provides that the capital stock of the company shall be $300,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The company is authorized and required to deepen and widen the channel of Pearl river, and remove obstructions so as to make that stream navigable for steamboats from its mouth to the city of Jackson, and as much higher up as may be deemed advisable. The company may establish harbors, build and run water craft, build storehouses, mills, factories and other improvements, and use them for manufacturing purposes.

—The Memphis Avalanche says: Mr. Fagan, well known among river men, died in this city last Sunday, and was buried yesterday. He was a native of Kentucky, and during the war a good soldier.

—The Tiger, which boat broke her shaft while going down with a tow of coal, arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday evening. She was towed after the accident by the Hawk.

—The Bodman is still aground on the falls with but slight hopes of getting her off until there is more water.

—The Messenger arrived at New Orleans on Wednesday and the Glencoe left the same day for Louisville.

—The Alps arrived at New Orleans on Thursday, and the Great Republic left the same day.

—The Mollie Ebert and John Kilgour ascended the falls on Wednesday.

—The Brill left Cincinnati for Nashville on Wednesday.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately existing between John H. Boyts, Frank Boyts and John H. Ulam, of the city of Pittsburgh, under the firm name of

J. H. BOYTS & CO.,

was dissolved on the 23d day of March, 1871, by mutual consent, having sold their entire stock of goods to T. F. BAILEY & CO., who will continue the business at Nos. 23 and 25 Wood street, as heretofore John H. Boyts and Frank Boyts are alone authorized to settle all debts due to and by the firm.

JOHN H. BOYTS,
FRANKLIN BOYTS,
JOHN H. UHLAM.

In retiring from the Crockery and Glassware trade, we most cordially recommend our successors, Messrs. F. F. Bailey & Co., to the patronage and friends of the late firm.

mh29:c94 J. H. BOYTS & CO.

NOTICE.—The Co-partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned under the firm of is hereby dissolved by mutual consent, Zacharias Gillespie and Joseph Kilch having this day purchased all the interest of William M. McCallin therein.

Z. Gillespie & Co.,

The business of the late firm will be continued under the same firm name by the remaining partners, Z. GILLESPIE and JOSEPH KILCH, who are alone authorized to use the name of the late firm in the settlement of the business, and to whom all debts due to said firm are to be paid and all claims presented for settlement.

Z. GILLESPIE,
WM. M. McCALLEN,
JOSEPH KILCH.

PITTSBURGH, February 21, 1871.

Having sold my entire interest in the business of the above firm to my late partners, Z. Gillespie and Joseph Kilch, I cheerfully recommend them to our former friends and patrons, and solicit for them a continuance of their patronage.

mh18:c62 W. M. McCALLIN.

DISSOLUTION.—The Partnership heretofore existing under the style of KIER, FOSTER & KIER, Was dissolved on the 21st day of January, 1871, JAS. M. KIER disposing of his interest in the firm to the remaining partners, who will carry on the business as usual under the firm name of KIER & FOSTER.

S. M. KIER,
JOHN FOSTER,
mh11:c4 JAS. M. KIER.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the Co-partnership heretofore existing between H. R. BARNES and A. H. McCLELLAND was, by mutual consent, dissolved on the 15th of February, 1871. The business of the late firm will be settled by H. R. Barnes.

FIRST MORTGAGE
7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,
ON A COMPLETED ROAD.
(FREE OF U. S. TAX.)
At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.
Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Minnesota Railway.
The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investment with Governments or any other security.
These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.
The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.
A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.
The convertibility privilege in these Bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock at par at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share of any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.
An exchange of Government securities for these Bonds returns 9⅜ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of 20 per cent. in price for reinvestment.
All marketable securities taken in exchange free of commission and express charges.

FINANCIAL.

NEW 7-30 GOLD LOAN
OF THE
Northern Pacific
RAILROAD CO.
SECURED BY
First Mortgage on Railroad and Land Grant.
SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT!
JAY COOKE & CO.
Offer for sale at par and accrued interest the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They are free from United States Tax, and are issued of the following denominations: Coupons $100, $500, and $1,000: Registered $100, $500, $1,000 $5,000 and $10,000.
With the same entire confidence with which we commended Government bonds to Capitalists and People, we now, after the fullest investigation recommend these Northern Pacific Railroad bonds to our friends and the general public.
GOLD PAYMENT—Both principal and interest are payable in American gold coin, at the office of Jay Cooke & Co., New York City—the principal at the end of 30 years, and the interest (at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum) half-yearly, first of January and July.
PERFECT SAFETY.—The bonds we are now selling are secured by a first and only mortgage on all the property and rights of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which will embrace on the completion of the work:
1. Over Two Thousand Miles of Road, with rolling stock, buildings, and all other equipments.
2. Over Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to every mile of finished road. This land, agricultural, timbered and mineral, amounting in all to more than Fifty Million Acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to forty miles on each side of the track, and extending in a broad fertile belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, to Puget Sound.
While the Government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the Road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unreserved grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon the great national improvement.
THE MORTGAGE.—The Trustees under the Mortgage, are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interests of the First Mortgage bond holders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the Company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the Trustees are to invest the proceeds of land sales in United States Bonds or Real Estate Mortgages for the further security of Northern Pacific bondholders. Also, that they have at all times in thers control, as security, 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.
PROFITABLENESS.—Of course nothing can be safer than the bonds of the United States, but as the Government is no longer a borrower, and as the Nation's present work is not that of preserving its existence, but that of DEVELOPING A CONTINENT, we remind those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while still having a perfectly reliable security that United States 5-20's at their average premium yield the present purchaser less than 5⅛ per cent. gold interest. Should they be redeemed in five years, and specie payments be resumed, they would really pay only 4½ per cent., or if in three years only 3½ per cent., as the present premium would mean while be sunk.
Northern Pacific 7-30's selling at par in currency yield the investor 7 3-10 per cent. gold interest absolutely for thirty years, free from United States tax, $1,100 currency invested now in United States 5-20's will yield per year in gold, say $62.09. $1,100 currency invested now in Northern Pacific 7-30's will yield per year in gold, $80.30. Here is a difference in annual income of nearly one-third, besides a difference of 7 to 10 per cent. in principal, when both classes of bonds are redeemed.
THE ROAD NOW BUILDING.—Work was begun in July last on the eastern portion of the line, and the money provided, by the sale to stockholders of some six millions of the Company's bonds, to build and equip the road from Lake Superior across Minnesota to the Red River of the North—233 miles. The grading on this division is now well advanced, the iron is being rapidly laid; several thousand men are at work on the line, and about the first of August next this important section of the road will be in full operation. In the meantime orders have been sent to the Pacific coast for the commencement of the work on the western end in early Spring, and thereafter the work will be pushed, both eastward and westward, with as much speed as may be consistent with solidity and a wise economy.
RECEIVABLE FOR LANDS.—These bonds will be at all times, before maturity, receivable, at 1-10, in payment for the Company's lands, at their lowest cash price.
BONDS EXCHANGEABLE.—The registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for coupons, the coupons for registered, and both these can be exchanged for others, payable, principle and interest, at any of the financial centres of Europe, in the coin of the various European countries.
HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our agents, who will allow the highest current price for all marketable securities.
Those living in localities remote from banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this loan. For sale by Pittsburgh is to have a new Sunday paper, Republican in politics, and, cheap in price—three cents per week delivered We understand it will make its appearance about the first of May.

Literary.—The Franklin and Milton Literary Societies will discuss the question, "Should Education be made Compulsory," at Franklin Hall, East Birmingham, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings next.

Surety of the Peace.—John Metz stated to Burgess Salisbury of Birmingham yesterday that James Quigley had threatened to do him great bodily harm. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Ankle Sprained.—Yesterday afternoon Geo. Miller, of the Seventeenth ward, while running to overtake a street car on Butler street, fell and sprained his ankle so seriously that he had to be carried to his home.

Thrown from a Wagon.—Wm. Ogden, of Ogden & Martin, Job printers of Allegheny, and a boy named Hawthorn in his employ were very seriously hurt by being thrown from a wagon on Boyle street yesterday.

The Pittsburgh Law Association will hold its regular meeting this afternoon, when it is expected that A. M. Brown, Esq., the President of the Association, will deliver the annual address. A large attendance is expected.

The Members of the Pittsburgh Barge Club have brought their boat house around to the Allegheny wharf, and will shortly be out with their beautiful barges and shells, which is so successfully in use in several western cities?

Frank Ziefel has been nominated by the Democrats of the first precinct Birmingham, as a candidate to fill the vacancy in Council occasioned by the death of the late John Redmond. The election takes place on Tuesday.

Messrs. Boyd, Murray and Fawcett have removed to their new Iron Front building, on the old theatre grounds, No. 58 Fifth Avenue where they will hereafter conduct their extensive business in Looking Glasses, Picture Frames, Mouldings &c.

Coal Sunk.—Yesterday morning a coal boat, filled with twenty-one thousand bushels of coal, sunk near McKeesport. It had been brought to the landing the evening previous by the towboat Traveller. The property belonged to the Coal Bluff Mining Company.

Nelson Keys was arrested yesterday on a process for costs, amounting to $17,65 25, and has been prosecuted in a trivial case in which the Grand Jury ignored the bill. In default of payment he was sent to jail for thirty days. That is a pretty effectual method of putting an end to petty suits.

Out of His Head.—George Leibel, on account of whose attempt to shoot his wife we gave in yesterday issue, had a hearing before Mayor Brush yesterday morning, when it was proven that the pistol was only loaded with powder and that the man is not in his right mind. He was sent to the Poor Farm.

The Western Union Telegraph Company will to-day take possession of their elegant new quarters in the magnificent First National Bank building on the corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street. We will on Monday give a full description of the new office and operating rooms, which was crowded out by an extraordinary pressure on our columns this morning.

Charity.—One benevolent gentleman, we are sorry to say as yet only one, has sent us a small sum of money for the relief of the afflicted family of Mr. Campbell, mentioned in the appeal of Mrs. Wade in yesterday's GAZETTE. We hope many others will spare a little of their abundance for this interesting case of a most worthy family in great distress.

Jailed.—Two charges were preferred before Alderman Thomas yesterday, by M. Thomas against John Davis—one for assault and another for assault and battery. In the first the prosecutor alleges that the defendant made use of violence and threatening gestures, and in the second that he beat him with his fists and with stones. Davis was arrested and jailed to wait a hearing.

There was an old fashioned German christening in the Straub family the other evening, the pleasure of which was somewhat marred by the arrival of two uninvited guests—Philip Stroup and a companion, who endeavored to get up a row. They were finally ejected from the premises, and yesterday the matter was made the basis of a suit before Alderman Bolster. Stroup was arrested and held for a hearing.

Resisting an Officer.—Patrick Cunningham was in a bellicose humor, yesterday, and threatened to "lay" for officer Husted, of Birmingham. That officer immediately laid hands on Patrick and conveyed him to the lock-up. During the progress thither he resisted Mr. Husted and tried to escape. Burgess Salisbury put him under bond to answer a charge of surety of the peace.

John O'Brien was brought before the same magistrate on oath of officer Wm. Boyd for a similar offence. He also was held for a hearing.

Correction.—In an article in yesterday's GAZETTE, clipped from a Wheeling paper, it was announced that Mr. John J. Jones, Teller of the First National Bank of that city, had been elected Cashier of the Second National of this city, whereas the office to which he was elected was that of Teller. Robert J. Stony, Esq., the capable and favorite Cashier of our Second National Bank, retains his position as heretofore, Mr. Jones coming to his aid as Teller, an office for which he is specially qualified, and in which he will become a favorite with those having business with the bank.

Change of Base.

Alderman Neubert and Coroner West will remove their office from Fifth avenue to No. 85 Grant street, opposite the Court House, to-day.

Alderman Shore is also on the move, and will cross to the opposite side of Wylie avenue, near the corner of Logan street.

Alderman Logan moves from Congress street to Wylie avenue, below Washington street.

Allegheny Police Committee.

The Police Committee of Allegheny Councils, held a meeting last night and appointed seven additional policemen, as follows: John Holmes, John Smith, Addison M. Couch, Wm. Palmer, George Kirchner, John Wallace and Samuel Bean.

To John Holmes was assigned the duty of keeping the street lamps in order.

The pay roll for the month of March, amounting to $2,994.75 was approved, and the force will receive their pay to-day.

After transacting some further business of minor importance, the Committee ajourned.

Republican Nomination.

Last night the Republican citizens of the First precinct, Birmingham, held a meeting in the Town Hall, at which Mr. Charles Evans presided and Mr. H. J. Hartzel officiated as Secretary.

The President stated the meeting had been called to nominate a candidate to fill the vacancy in Council occasioned by the death of Mr. John Redman. Messrs. Stephen Strunz and James McDonald were nominated, and a vote being taken, resulted in the selection of Mr. McDonald, whose nomination was then made unanimous, after which the meeting adjourned.

The election will be held next Tuesday.

TEACHERS' REUNION.

The Annual Social Gathering of the Teachers of our City Public Schools with their Friends—Eloquence, Music, Mirth and Feasting.

The teachers of our city have successfully inaugurated reunions—social, intellectual, friendly feasts, which annually draw them together in union and bind them together more closely in the bonds of fellowship and fraternity. We do not know upon whom rests the credit for this pleasing innovation to lighten and relieve the arduous duties of the teacher's life and to lighten the close and tedious enslavement of the class rooms, unless it be either the worthy Superintendent, Prof. Luckey, or the highly respected principal of the Ralston school faculty, Prof. Andrew Burtt, but to whoever it is due, he or they should receive full credit with the beauty of the idea and the good fruits resulting from its practical development. Last night was the happy return of the anniversary occasion, and there assembled a large and brilliant party of ladies and gentlemen, principally the teachers and directors of the city schools and their immediate friends. The participants first assembled in the large audience room of the school building and organized into a meeting by calling Prof. Burtt to the chair.

REMARKS OF PROF. BURTT.

This gentleman briefly thanked the audience for the distinguished honor paid him in being called upon to preside over a meeting so conspicuous for intelligence, refinement and cultivation. He said the audience was made up of our public educators—the taxpayers who contributed the money to support the Common Schools, the Directors who controlled the machinery of the system and the teachers the principal agents in imparting education to the scholars entrusted to their care in whose welfare and mental development and culture all others were interested. Mr. Burtt explained fully the object of the pleasant meeting having sociability as its basis and concluded his remarks by reading the first regular toast of the evening:

Our Common Schools—the nation's hope

and called upon

HON. H. BUCHER SWOOPE,

for a response. This able and eloquent gentleman said:

It affords me great pleasure to respond to the sentiment just uttered, as well as to participate in this re-union of the teachers of the public schools, and I can only regret my inability to bring some contribution worthy an occasion of so much interest.

History demonstrates that from the remotest antiquity the wisest rulers and most eminent statesmen regarded the establishment of institutions of learning among their subjects as a matter of the gravest importance; and that those governments which were longest perpetuated were those most brilliantly illumined by the light of knowledge. Greece, the land of Homer and of Hesiod, was celebrated for public libraries and schools, the most important of which were the gymnasia, consisting of the Lyceum, the Cynosarges and the Academy, three magnificent establishments, instituted and maintained at the public expense.

Rome also in her most cultivated era—the period immediately preceding the Augustan age, had schools intimately connected with her government, and supported by its fostering care. The thousand Achæans who were sent to plead the cause of their country before the Senate of Rome, and who instead of being heard, were retained in captivity for seventeen years—were all men of taste and elegant accomplishments, as well as scholars of profound and diversified erudition. The whole Republic became enamored of their various acquisitions, and public schools were established under their superintendence, which soon caused all the Roman youths to engage in the exercise of rhetoric and eloquence.

China and Persia, were also justly celebrated for their systems of public schools, by which they were enabled to wield a despotic sway over more than one-fourth the population of the habitable globe. And in more modern times the governments and statesmen of Europe have turned their attention to the institution and support of schools among the people as a means of self preservation. This has been the case especially in Norway, Denmark, Prussia, Switzerland and Great Britain.

As early as 1616 the Scotch Parliament adopted measures for supporting a public school in each parish at the expense of the landed proprietors, a system that had an enduring and propitious effect on the moral and enterprising character of the nation. In Austria the supervision and control of the whole school system resides in the Government, and their institutions, from the primary village school up to the university, are gratuitously open to all the youth of the Empire. In Prussia common schools were established by Frederick II. in 1750. Under his system a school was maintained in every village by a tax levied upon the lord of the village and his tenants. The scholars were to be sent from their sixth to their thirteenth year, and every parent who neglected to send his child, unless for sufficient cause, was doubly taxed. The law under strong penalties still impresses the duty upon parents to send their children to school. Primary seminaries for the instruction of teachers are aso maintained at the expense of the state and the department. The influence of this thorough system of education maintained for more than a hundred years, is to be gathered from the recent military achievments of this great people, which are without a paralel in the annuls of the world.

In our own country the importance of a system of public education, was recognized as early as the landing of the Pilgrims, among whom we find a law existing that "every township when the Lord had increased them to the number of fifty householders, shall appoint one to teach all children to read and write; and when any town shall increase to the number of one hundred families, they shall set up a grammar school, the master thereof being able to instruct youth so far as they may be fitted for the university." And it has ever continued to be a principle in New England, that it is the duty of the Government to provide for the education of all the youth, at least so far as it consists in the elements of learning and morals.

The illustrious founder of our own Commonwealth, in his "Frame of Government," or constitution of the province incorporated the great truth that "men of wisdom and virtue are requisite to preserve a good constitution, and that these qualities do not descend with worldly inheritance, but are to be carefully propagated by a virtuous education of youth." About one year after the coming of Penn—in a rude hut, formed of pine and cedar planks, and divided by a wooden partition into two apartments, Enoch Flower opened the first school in Pennsylvania, under the thick groves of Coaquannock, where the city of Philadelphia now stands—perhaps where Girard College rears its marble columns—was located this,

"School house rude,
As is the chrysalis to the butterfly," from whence issued the following curriculum and charges. To learn to read four shillings a quarter; to write, six shillings; boarding a scholar, to wit. diet, washing, lodging and schooling, ten pounds the whole year."

A few years after a law was passed by the Colonies to enjoining it as a duty upon the several courts to see that all the children in the Provinces were taught to read and write, and imposing a penalty of 5 £ upon every person who had a child not thus educated. Six years after Enoch Flower opened his school, a public school was founded, in which the celebrated George Kieth was the first teacher. The office was then held in the highest estimation, and he was allowed fifty pounds a year, with a house to live in, in addition to all the profits derived from the scholars.

The Constitution of our State provides that the Legislature shall establish schools throughout the Commonwealth, in such a manner that the poor may be taught gratis, and that the arts and sciences shall be promoted in one or more seminaries of learning.

But though the importance of a general system of education was thus early recognized, no attempt was made to establish a common school fund until the 2d April, 1831. At that time certain monies accruing from the sale of lands were set apart for that purpose at an interest of five per cent. In 1834 the State was divided into districts, and $75,000 were ordered to be paid out of the school fund for the year 1835, and annually thereafter to the counties entitled to receive it. In 1849, all the previous enactments were revised and consolidated in one general law, which was the basis of our present system.

Since its establishment in 1835, the progress of the Common School system has been rapid, and the consequent growth of our State in wealth and intelligence is the best evidence of its influence and utility. It had many difficulties and obstacles to surmount; for truth always enters the world like a humble child with few to receive her, and it is only when she has grown in years and strength that she is sought and wooed. And successful as the system has been in its operation, there is still a predjudice that has not been broken down—that prevails throughout the whole commonwealth,—and that is exercising a baneful and pernicious influence upon the whole social organism. It is the narrow notion that the public schools are intended for the education of the poor, only, as such If the sun shed his glorious beams more effulgently on the rich man's palace than on the poor man's cottage—if the great Eternal had provided for the poor a less gorgeous earth and a less brilliant sky—if the Creator had enstamped the mind of the poor man's child with the imprint of a baser birth, then might the pale sons of aristocracy and wealth enjoy alone the benefits and blessings of refined education. But mind is the offspring of immortality. It wants but light, and misfortune, difficulty and poverty will but stimulate its vigor. Bestowed by the inspiration of the Almighty, its energies will not be restrained—its power cannot be destroyed. It is alike invincible in the hovel and in the palace—in the hut of the slave and the home of the free. The son of the poor tallow-chandler, though compelled to sit up and read by the dim light of the two-penny dip, while the scion of aristocracy reclined on his downy pillow—planted his foot upon the neck of kings—added new provinces to the domain of science, and bound the lurid lightning with a hempen cord to a frail chariot of glass. In the language of Bishop Doane, "the common school is common—not as an inferior, not as the school for poor men's chileren—but as the light and air are common."

It is a matter of congratulation that the ball of scolastic education has been gradually enlarging in size and power for the last half century, and is now rolling on with increased and ever increasing velocity. We are the heirs to a rich inheritance of knowledge, that has been accumulating from age to age and from generation to generation. The child is now taught at its mother's knee, the orbits of the heavenly bodies, the diversity of men, the geography of nations and the discoveries of science, none of which could be grasped by the mightiest intellects of other days. Thus the reason of man at the present day, is not merely the reason of a single individual, but that of the whole human family in all ages from which knowledge has descended, and as the stream of Time steals silently away the bad disappears, and the good it contained enters into new forms—its precious seeds to be again scattered for a rich and abundant harvest.

To you, ladies and gentlemen, who are teachers in public schools, permit me to say, you occupy a most responsible position in the community—one whose importance time will not now permit me to dwell upon. To you old and young look for an example, not merely of wisdom and knowledge, but of virtue and truth. To you belong not only the "Delightful task to rear the tender thought,

To teach the young idea how to shoot.
To wreathe the enlivening spirit, and to fix
The generous purpose in the glowing breast."

but also the duty of instilling into the minds of your pupils that there is proposed to them a nobler end than knowledge. A great philosopher mourned in his old age that he had wandered picking pebbles on the shore, while the vast illimitable ocean of the unknown still stretched away before him. True indeed is the proposition of Imanuel Kant, that intellect is no virtue. There is a wisdom which all the processes of philosophy cannot find out, but which is present to the free sense of the child. It is higher than the learning of Aristotle, more beautiful than the brightest gems of Homer. It is better than rubies, more precious than the gold of Ophir. Teach them this, and it will guide their steps in safety through all the tangled paths of life, and will shed over their dying couch the dawning radiance of a divine and an endless day.

Mr. Swoope's remarks were received with much applause, for they were delivered in his happiest vein.

A delicious vocal offering followed from a volunteer quartette club, consisting of Messrs. Slack, Cargo, Darlington and Horner, under the leadership of the former gentleman.

The next sentiment offered was

The Press—May it ever be fearless in the defense of Truth and Justice.

REV. JOHN DOUGLAS, D.D.,

was called upon for a response. He promptly made his appearance and delivered a very neat and eloquent address which elicited close attention and much genuine and hearty applause. He stated that he was not previously aware that he should be called upon to respond to this suggestive sentiment, although he fully appreciated and thoroughly acknowledged the compliment paid him in being selected to do justice to the sentiment expressed in honor of the literary profession. He, however, did full and ample justice and we wish all our editorial and reportorial friends had been present to have heard the eloquent, and to our mind, very truthful compliment be paid the journalistic profession which be maintained was not properly recognized as yet in this country. His tribute to the three great agencies now at work in this country in forming and building up the national character of our people, the Pulpit, the Common Schools and the Press, was eloquent and received the heartiest endorsement of the audience.

The next sentiment read by the Chairman was

Our Country—the home and hope of freedom.

To which an able and happy response was made by W. C. Moreland, Esq., who spoke in his best vein of true wit, humor and thought, clothing his ideas in beautiful and well chosen language.

The Directors of the Pittsburgh Public Schools.

This sentiment brought out T. J. Craig, Esq., and we know no gentleman who could have been selected to do fuller justice to the gentlemen complimented. Mr. Craig, an active, enterprising director himself, spoke of the great work those having charge of the public shools of the city have, and are now accomplishing. The Directors were all deeply sensible of the importance of their positions and worked harmoniously together to perfect the glorious common school system of the State.

Progress—the spirit of the age.

was responded to in his usually able, eloquent and happy manner by Josiah Cohen, Esq., who in a brief address reviewed the progress to a higher standard the world had made in the past century, and is now continuing to make.

He was followed in a masterly and spirited speech by Hon. J. P. Wickersham, the able and much esteemed State Superintendent of Public Schools, at the close of whose remarks Mr. W. R. Ford, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, announced that supper was ready on the lower floor. An adjournment speedily followed, and several hundred soon were seated at the banquet board, which was elaborately gotten up and loaded down with hearty substantials and toothsome dainties. After all had partaken of the abundance of good things spread so bounteously before them, the young folks adjourned to the main hall of the school building, where an excellent band furnished music for the tripping of the light fantastic toe, which was kept up till well nigh the break of dawn.

The occasion was very pleasant and enjoyable, and its success was due to the Committee of Arrangement, of which Mr. Ford was chairman, ably assisted by a number of gentlemen and ladies, among whom of the latter none were more efficient than the accomplished Miss Bella Scott, who well knows how to receive and care for guests on such occasions.

THE SECOND LECTURE.

"Men's Rights" Discussed—The Line of Argument—A Large Audience Well Entertained.

Miss Anna E. Dickinson appeared again at Library Hall last night, and repeated her views on "Men's Rights." The audience which greeted her second advent was a great improvement upon that of the preceding evening. Every seat in the lower floor and gallery was taken, and then as the people continued coming, the old device, which lecture goers are quite familiar with, of using the stage, was resorted to, and a full complement of enthusiastic auditors accommodated thereon.

Miss. Dickinson with what seems to be her invariable custom in Pittsburgh was again about twenty minutes after the appointed time when she made her bow to the audience; but Pittsburgh audiences are exceedingly good natured and their slight vexation was forgotten, after she had uttered the opening phrases of her discourse.

The lecture was peculiar to the lecturess; and that means that she inveighed, though perhaps never harshly, yet all the more earnestly and convincingly, against the injustice as she styles it of withholding the ballot from woman. According to her theory, and who that has considered the question can say it is far wrong? the ballot in the hands of women would be an agency for good, which if it did not absolutely revolutionize the world, would bring about a great change for the better—purify and enlighten much that is corrupt and darkness now.

It was the "right" of men, true men, so her main argument ran, to demand and receive the earnest love and veneration and encouragement and sympathy of true women, but then there should be a proper compensation for this. Woman should not in return be trammeled and hedged in and prevented from developing her true womanhood, and all the capacities of her nature in any field by any law or custom of society—that society being governed by rules made by men. She would not have women usurp the place of men, but would make their relative positions such as God had designed them—upon an equality, each mutually dependent So then her argument rounded again to the ballot. This was the open sesame through which alone woman could enter upon that higher existence and field of labor to which she was called, toiling side by side, upon an equal footing with man, in the great work of purifying and elevating and ennobling humanity. With women in that position, she argued, all the woe and bitterness and misery in the world would not, because it could not be entirely assuaged, yet much of it could be relieved, because much of it would never exist, under such a condition. It would not be the work of a month or a year, after the ballot was given women, that this consummation would be brought about but the light would come though perhaps slowly and delayed for years.

In developing this argument, the speaker enforced her doctrine, and spiced the exhortations, with that ready wit and more rare and peculiar eloquence of intense earnestness, which are always so marked in her public addresses and which however the hearer may differ, carries the conviction with it that the utterances are those of perhaps a slight enthusiast, but certainly a true whole souled, clear headed and liberal hearted woman—as much different from the namby-pambyism by which many of her fair sisterhood endeavor to beguile an audience, as sensationalism is from truth.

The lecturess entertained the audience for about an hour and a half, and was often made aware of the impression made with her remarks by earnest and apparently appreciative applause. A commendable feature, which cannot but be regarded as a vast improvement upon her earlier efforts, was the absence of that sarcastic bitterness, which, however, much it might excite laughter, very much weakenes the force of the after argument. The audience last night seemed to observe this fact, and were correspondingly pleased and perhaps more ready to be convinced.

Miss Dickinson has made new friends by her visit and entertainment, who will gladly welcome her if she ever again appears upon our lecture platform.

EPISCOPAL.

Christ Church, Allegheny—An Appeal.

We cannot too strongly commend to the church people of both cities the objects so clearly indicated by the following letters of Bishop Kerfoot and Rev. B. F. Brooke, rector of Christ Church, whose vestry and members have, as we personally know, made the most praiseworthy progress in liquidating a debt which was out of proportion to the means of the congregation, but has happily been reduced to a balance so small that the little help from without, now solicited, and which we hope will be readily accorded, would put the parish in a healthy and prosperous condition, with a fine field and ample capacity for a vigorous aggressive work.

THE BISHOP'S HOUSE,
PITTSBURGH, February 27, 1871.

MY DEAR MR. BROOKE: It gave me very great joy to hear from you your plan and your hopes for the extinguishment of the debt of your church. It is like seeing daylight. You have worked on so far with a noble perseverance and hopefulness which amply merit the success you now think attainable.

The facts of the case commend it to every churchman's sympathy. Christ Church was in every way unequal to the work that ought to be done in Allegheny. It is now ample in size, and very convenient and beautiful in its arrangements.

The congregation is growing rapidly under your efficient pastoral care. You found the parish (two years ago) owing $26,000, (a debt incurred in church improvements,) By your efforts—in cash collections and good subscriptions on time—you have reduced the debt to $13,000. You now propose to raise $10,000, as an Easter offering, of which amount the vestry pledge you $5,000. The other $5,000 you propose to raise from the congregation and others; and you hope, as I do, that help will come to you from outside of Christ Church. The vestry further more say the remaining $3,000 shall never trouble any one.

Such an achievement would make Easter Day a very bright day to the congregation of Christ Church and to its rector. Your Bishop and brethren would share your joy and theirs It is most important to the forward work of the church in Allegheny city that Christ Church be freed from debt, and so made able to expend its whole energies in parochial and missionary work in its district. May God give your own people and others the will to respond heartily to your request.

I am very, affectionately yours,
J. B. KERFOOT,
Bishop of Pittsburgh.

With what my vestry have pledged $5,000 will crush our debt, and put us on our feet. I cannot, under present circumstances, expect to raise it all in my congregation, and hope the friends of the one common cause, in other parishes, will come to our help.

REV. B. F. BROOKE, Rector.
No. 11 Hemlock street, Allegheny city.

Interesting Occasion.

On Thursday evening there was a very pleasant occasion in the way of a cane presentation at the West Liberty Public School House, which drew together a large number of the ladies and gentlemen of the neighborhood, together with the pupils and teachers of the school. The recipient was the genial and accomplished Rev. E. R. Jones, who has contributed much to the education and entertainment of the pupils from the pure love of doing good, assisting in the musical and other exercises of the school. His friends and the pupils resolved on a pleasant surprise for him and an elegant gold headed cane was purchased, and in a neat and handsome manner, Mr. Thomas Algoe made the presentation speech, which was gratefully and elegantly responded to by the recipient. The gift was well bestowed and we hope Mr. Jones may live long to enjoy it and the high measure of regard and endearment entertained for him by those who participated in the pleasure of the occasion.

The New Pittsburgh and Allegheny Atlas.

In this notice we emphasize the word Atlas, as entitled to special favor, and we are glad to know that the effort of Messrs. Converse and Hopkins, to furnish our people with a complete Atlas, of our cities, bound in convenient folio form, is meeting with merited encouragement. Their order books show a fine list of our best citizens. The superior readiness and facility with which any portion of the map of the cities, can be consulted in an Atlas on your office table or desk, as compared with an immense map, mounted on rollers, will be at once appreciated, and we take it that when such an atlas, accurate in its details and elegant in its style and finish can be obtained at the low price of $10, very few offices or libraries in the city, will do without one. We understand that the Allegheny side is nearly ready for the engravers and the work in Pittsburgh, and on the South Side, is well under way. Since this work has been promised, we are feeling the need of it every day.

THE SALOON KEEPERS' TROUBLE.

The Hostilities Renewed—The Temperance Men Come Out in Force—A Victory the First Day—The Applicants who were Fortunate—The License Board with their Hands Full—Further Proceedings To-day.

The friends of Temperance yesterday renewed hostilities against the saloon keepers, and with such success as to be virtually victorious at the close of the day.

It will be remembered that the Commissioners, whose worthy souls are wonderfully vexed by this new outbreak of temperance reform, held a meeting about ten days ago, but instead of finding all serene, and then as usual proceeding with the granting of licenses, had their equanimity disturbed by the appearance of the temperance men with papers and lawyers and objections which were so forcible that a postponement was necessitated.

Yesterday was

THE TIME FIXED

for the sitting of the Commissioners as a License Board and much interest was attached to the event. The temperance men had improved the time of postponement, while sundry secret meetings and unwonted activity on the part of the saloon keepers, gave indication that they were not idle.

As the time drew near the excitement increased, until not only a few of the Temperance men who had inaugurated the movement, and the saloon keepers upon whom they made a raid, became interested, but their friends on either side looked with anxiety toward the Court House, and were stirred up to something like enthusiasm on the question at issue. Thus the morning of yesterday found many whose pedestrian exertions seldom bending their steps toward the temple on the hill, with unwonted eagerness and at an early hour.

The Commissioners seem to have anticipated a goodly company, and with foresight prepared accordingly by selecting the room of the Jury Commissioner as their place of sitting—a change of base, the wisdom of which was apparent before their deliberations had ended.

The principals in the contest, which was the absorbing theme, soon discovered the rendezvous and indeed were on hand so early that the venerable janitor, to whom is entrusted the keys of the temple of justice, was aroused from his morning reveries and somewhat quickened from the judicial gravity of years which has settled about him, by the

which came in mingled accents from wide awake temperance reformers and alert saloon keepers. Each as it was evident had determined to be on the ground first and there was a mutual surprise as the forces of either were found arrayed around the citadel about the same time, and that long enough before the opening of the doors.

The deep interest felt in the proceedings was apparent by the number and character of the throng. In numbers they filled the room, as quickly as it was opened and yet extended out into the corridor, and along the hall, until there was no possibility of obtaining a position within hearing distance of the loudest advocate whose eloquence was freely expended in support of his cause, Then the

CHARACTER OF THE GATHERING.

Ministers and lawyers, and honest yeomen, the rotund and perplexed saloon keeper and his victims, men of wealth and refinement, rough men and unprincipled bloats, and men of business action, philanthropists and representatives of the dehumanizing effects of strong drink. Every shade of society and every class of men helped to swell the throng, and all earnest as self interest could make men in the prosecution of their claims. Throughout the day they kept coming and going, but there were always the elements that marked the throng of the morning.

After waiting and chafing and bickering about an hour the doors were thrown open, and all who could gained entrance into the room. Here the County Commissioners, Messrs. Neely, Scott and McGhee, perhaps a little confused and excited, but ready for work, had assembled. Order was restored about ten o'clock, when it was announced that into which they had organized, was ready for business.

The tempeaance men, who were represented by Messrs. W. B. Negley, D. D. Bruce and W. K. Jennings, were the first to speak, which they did through Mr. Negley, who presented an objection to the whole proceedings as follows:

Before the Commissioners of Allegheny County:

In the matter of the applications for license to keep taverns, to sell liquors, for eating-houses, and to sell liquors with other goods advertised, to be heard this 31st day of March, 1871, before said commissioner as a board of license.

And now, March 31, 1871, W. B. Negley and W. Jennings, counsel for the remonstrants in several cases, move that all said applications to be heard to-day be dismissed, because the county has not been districted by said board as required by law.

ONE FOR THE SALOON-KEEPERS.

The excitement thus begun was increased by the argument on the motion which was made by Messrs. Negley and Bruce on the part of the Temperance people, and Messrs. Ammon and Coyle for the saloon keepers.

The Board finally overruled the motion and ordered the hearing to proceed.

There was a flutter through the audience as this announcement was made, and the saloon keepers were benignant at the stroke in their favor, while the temperance men were correspondingly in gloom. Neither, however, expressed any feeling audibly, and the first applicant was taken up. The hearers gathered closer about the stand as the examination proceeded. There was but little change in the examination and the applicants came up in regular order, when each was subjected to an examination of which will suffice to indicate the character.

The application of Geo. Boyd of Bridgeville was among the first called. John Coyle, Esq., attorney, was called as a witness for the applicant.

Mr. Bruce—Do you know anything about Mr. Boyd's house?

Mr. Coyle—Yes, sir; it is a good house and a public accommodation. It is one of the best houses on the road to little Washington.

Mr. Bruce—Is the applicant temperate?

Mr. Coyle—Yes, sir, he is, and don't sell liquor illegally. I never got liquor on Sundays there.

Mr. Bruce—Did you ever get any on week days?

Mr. Coyle—Not since I quit drinking.

This application was finally refused.

OBJECTIONS URGED.

Another application was brought up, when Commissioner Neely asked a witness if he thought the house making application was necessary for public accommodation.

Mr. Bruce.—I object to your Honor's asking witnesses whether the house is necessary or not. They are not to judge, but you.

Commissioner Neely.—I know it is our duty to judge, but we only ask for information.

Mr. Bruce. But it is not according to rule or law to ask the witnesses.

When the application of Phillip Nusser, of Spring-hill, North Versailles, was called up, Mr. Negley said: The law requires that the affidavit has to be signed at the time application is made, and it appears from these papers this affidavit was not signed until to-day.

Mr. Reardon (attorney for applicant)—I object to these lawyers badgering us around here.

The board filed the objection.

A REMONSTRANCE.

There was a slight interception in the order of proceedings at this point by the presentation of a remonstrance, the first which had been brought out. It came when the application of Fred Jacobs was read.

Mr. Jennings—I have a remonstrance to file against that.

Mr. Cohen (attorney for applicant)—I object to its being filed now, on the ground that you can't file against an applicant on the day of hearing.

To bridge over that difficulty, it was agreed at last by the Board, at the suggestion of the counsel on both sides, to lay aside all applications against which remonstrances were presented until Wednesday for a further hearing.

A "HOUSE OF ENTERTAINMENT."

A specimen of the "houses of entertainment" was given when the application of Edward McDermott, of the First ward, was called up.

Mr. Negley—We object to the petition because it was not sworn to, and we file a remonstrance against the house.

The remonstrance was signed by forty persons and set forth that the houses had not the accommodations required by law.

A witness was called, and said that there were eleven rooms in the house, and one bed to each room.

Mr. Bruce—Did you ever know of anybody stopping at the house?

Witness—I know of sixteen river men that stopped there one night.

Mr. Bruce—Has he any stable?

Witness—He had one; I don't whether he has now or not.

Mr. Jenning—Are there many saloons near there?

Witness—Well, there are about seven.

Mr Jennings—How many houses are there in that row?

Witness—Five, sir.

Mr. Jennings—How many saloons are there in the row?

Witness—Four, sir. [Laughter.

A POLICE OFFICER TESTIFIES.

Lieutenant David Campbell, of the Mayor's police force, was called to testify. He said that sometimes there were drunken parties there; after midnight, however, all was quiet Witness had no objection in particular to the house, and had not signed the remonstrance. There were nine saloons within a space of three hundred feet there. The houses were all about alike. Some time ago a traveler asked witness to get him a lodging place, and he only found one that would take him in. Witness didn't think these taverns accomodated many.

This application was also laid over. During the hearing of it, Mr. Negley said the temperance men merely desired that the applicant complied with the law and if he so appeared, they would make no objection. They merely demanded that the law be carried out.

The Board continued their labors until about four o'clock in the afternoon, when they adjourned until this morning at nine o'clock, when the list will again be taken up. At the close of their labors they had rejected about twenty applicants and had granted but four the following being

THE FORTUNATE ONES:

James Nolan, tavern, Twelfth ward, Pittsburgh, 945 Penn street. Sales amounts to $4,000 per year. Bondsmen—Spencer, McKay & Co., R. Watson; amount of bond, $2,000; four story brick house, twenty-two rooms and twenty beds.

Micheal Hoeh, tavern, Third ward, Allegheny, 127 Chestnut street; Sales $1,800 Bond, $500. Bondsmen: Davis Lutz and John Hillenbrand. House two story frame, nine rooms, eight beds.

Thomas McDonald, Twelfth ward, Pittsburgh, 913 Penn street. Annual sales $1,800; bond $500; bondsmen, Spencer, McKay & Co., S. H. Watson & Co.; 3 story brick house, 3 rooms, 8 beds.

Frank Gordwin, Eighth ward, Pittsburgh. Liquor and other goods; house Wylie and Fulton street; sales $2,700. Bond $1,000; bondsmen, Robert King and A. M. Barber.

The proceedings at first were marked by much excitement, but in an hour or so this calmed down and the hearings went off in a compararively quiet manner. To-day the contest will be renewed, Higby, Cust & Co.

At this spring time of the year when the lethargy of winter has passed away, and all men are bestiring themselves to secure a full share of the spring trade, so generally looked for, the firm above named will be found among the foremost in their complete preparation for a large trade. Their stock in all their forty years of business, has never been so large in quantity or value as it is this spring, and in style and variety, it challenges comparison with any in the country. Country dealers have in this fine stock and low prices, every inducement to replenish their shelves from it, and the retail trade at home will find it impossible elsewhere to find China and Queensware Glassware and Silverplated ware in sets and otherwise in more variety of styles and finish or at more tempting prices than at the store of Higby, Cust & Co. THE UNFORTUNATE GAS MAN.

Envy Him Not—His Melancholy Career and the End of it.

Our young friend, who gazed wistfully the other day at the retreating form of a dapper little gas man, who had just collected one of these merciful and moderate bills, which consumers of the etherial fluid hereabouts, so highly appreciate, was wrong, quite wrong, in allowing a feeling of envy to steal over his soul. It may be true the inducement was great. The remembrance of that gorgeous outfit, everywhere betokening a reckless disregard of expense; together with that bursting purse of Spinner photographs; accompanied by the "farings sumptuously every day" which that gas man doubtless enjoys; and the sweet reverie over stone front palaces, of which he has a share; the remembrance or contemplation of an individual so graciously favored, might well induce envious longings; but then a wiser philosophy, teaches the importance of considering the end of all things. That gas man may move, smiling and outwardly serene among his victims, but mark his ending. Is there not a record of one in earlier times, similarly favored, who had his reward in this world, but in this world only.

So then our young and inexperienced friend was wrong, very wrong in the indulgence of envy toward the gentle innocent gas man. And that he may never again fall into such an error, let him peruse and ponder well the history of the unfortunate man, as narrated by a child of the muses, who evidently knew how it was himself. Let him and all who had the same feeling, solemnly consider as it is expressed in rhythmical numbers the sad and touching story of

THAT DREADFUL GAS MAN.

HIS LIFE.

Don't envy the life of a gas man,
In spite of his plunder and pelf,
Forever blown up by the public,
And often blown up by himself.

A common man blesses the sunshine,
Delighted with beautiful day;
But the bloated and horrible gas man
Despises whatever don't pay.

All nature to him is but business,
The sun does a gas tank appear,
The very stars nothing but burners,
And the moon but a big chandelier.

What ever rejoices his fellows,
Is only coal ashes and soot;
Unless the order of business,
It fetches him so much a foot.

A satrap, he governs our pockets,
Our houses, our shops and our rights;
The doctors may fuss with our livers,
But he must have charge of our lights.

I read in the life of a gas man,
The lessons such people can teach,
Prophetic of brimstone and blazes,
As plain as a parson can preach.

HIS DEATH.

How dreadful the death of a gas man,
Surrounded and haunted by those
Whom his plundering charges have swindled,
Till conscience forbids him repose.

Oh! solemn and awful his passage,
With the implements gathered around
Wherewith he has ruined his neighbors
And lit his own home under ground.

The coal and coke and bitumen,
The acids, the tar and the steam,
The sulphur, the lime and foul odors,
All thronging his horrible dream.

Detestable stenches surround him,
Fierce demons in gas pipes appear,
False metres rise up and confound him,
And patent jets hiss in his ear.

If he kicks, both his feet must remind him
Of the feet overcharged in his bill;
While the click of the clock, like a metre,
Each second must give him a thrill.

HEREAFTER.

At length, when his oxygen fails him,
He sinks with the folks of his sort,
When Satan immediately grabs him,
And places him in a retort,

Corns and Piles.

We have suffered much and long with a considerable and troublesome crop of corns and bunions, and have at last found relief and comfort in the surgery and therapeutics of Dr. Bowers, of Allegheny City, who goes about in these cities and in neighboring cities, multiplying grateful friends wherever he goes. He skilfully and without giving pain, removes all callous, and, with a liniment and salve prepared by himself and for sale by all druggists, completes the cure of the most inveterate and painful corns, bunions and defective nails. The doctor has recently brought to perfection another specialty and has had singular success in treating hemorrhoids, or piles, in which he is confident he will relieve more and worse suffering than with his other specialty and receive the thanks of hundreds, in evidence of which we print the following letter from a gentleman in the oil regions cured by the doctor's remedies of a malady with which thousands are afflicted. Further reference at Thorn's central drug store, in Allegheny Market:

PETROLEUM CENTRE, February 25.

DR. BOWERS—Dear Sir: Will you be kind enough to send me a box of your pile remedy for a friend of mine that is afflicted with the piles, the same as I was, and through a friend of mine and yours, Mr. Coblins sent me a box of your pile remedy, and I am happy to inform you that it has nearly cured me, as I am better than I have been in the last two years, hoping that it will effect a permanent cure, which I think it will. Mine were the bleeding piles, also the outward ones, and I am happy to say I feel cured, through my friend Mr. Coblins. Enclosed please find a dollar; send by express to Petroleum Centre to

Respectfully yours,
B. A. BOON.

Cabinet Organs.

The business of the Mason & Hamlin Organ Company has constantly, as well as rapidly, increased in extent, last week having brought them more orders than they ever before received in the same time, including one by cable from London for thirty-six organs. This is the legitimate result of making always and only best work, and selling it to all alike at lowest remunerative profit. They, however, give credit for much of the acknowledged superiority of their instruments to the exclusive use in them of several patented novelties of construction. Having none of that mistaken pride which would lead them to value nothing not originated by themselves, they are eager to avail themselves of every improvement, wherever made. Thus their organs represent the best results of invention and skill yet attained in instruments of that class.

Splendid fresh lot of the Mason & Hamlin Organs received at the Music Rooms of Mellor & Hoene, 53 Fifth avenue, next door to Masonic Hall. Call and see them. Every instrument fully warranted. Monthly installments taken.

Standard Time.

Mr. W. G. Dunseath, No. 56 Fifth avenue, has received his fresh stock of goods from the east, and is now prepared to accommodate all parties with any style or price in a watch, all of which he will guarantee. Dunseath is sole agent for the celebrated U. S. watches, and will warrant any one of these timekeepers with ordinary care to give perfect satisfaction for a lifetime. The verdict of all who have purchased the U. S watches has been universally in praise of their excellence.

Aside from this trade, Dunseath attends to the repairing of watches and clocks, and makes a specialty of the work. Any of his patrons who may have a fine timekeeper, either for the pocket or the house, which is out of repair, should secure the services of one of his workmen.

H. J. McCracken & Co.

The above firm, at their warehouse, No. 28 Smithfield street, corner of Second avenue, whose card we publish this morning, have been quietly but surely increasing their trade until they have come to be esteemed one of the most popular and successful produce and commission houses in the street. They are constantly receiving fresh consignments of flour, bacon, dried fruits, butter, cheese, eggs, potatoes, poultry, brooms, and produce generally. We notice that their daily sales to families of all sorts of family stores are quite large. We know that those accustomed to deal with them, have the highest opinion of the proprietors as honorable and accommodating merchants, and we are free to commend them as such to our readers.

Under a Load of Flour.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon, Augustus Rinehart, driver of an express wagon, met with a painful accident. He was standing behind his wagon, which contained ten barrels of flour, with the reins in his hand, turning his horse, when they wheeled around suddenly, the front wheel passing under the bed in such a way as to tip it up and throw the whole load out on to the driver. It was at first thought that the man was killed, but on being extricated from beneath the flour and carried to his home near at hand, Doctor Huselton, who had been summoned, pronounced that no bones even were broken and that the only injuries sustained were a few painful bruises.

Ocean Travel in 1870

A recent number of the London Times giving an account of the eight different lines running across the Atlantic, says they number one hundred and eight vessels and conveyed 302,148 passengers and nearly 1,700,000 tons of freight. In stating the proportionate amount of passengers carried by the different lines it seems the celebrated Inman Royal Mail line of vessels have more than the others, exceeding them by about 5,000 which proves its reputation for speed and accomodation. Parties desirous of making a trip can obtain the necessrry information and have their berths secured months if necessary in advance of their leaving at the Company's office, where plan of cabins can be seen.

PROBABLY FATAL SHOOTING.

A Man Attacked by Two Brothers, One of Whom Shoots Him—Death May be the Result.

George C. Patterson made an information before Mayor Brush yesterday morning, charging two brothers named William and John M. Ross, residents of Plum township, who were on the eve of leaving for Kansas, with felonious assault and battery. Mr. Patterson stated that a feud subsisted between these two brothers and a man named Harmar D. Lawson, which grew out of some remarks made about the wife of one of the brothers. On Thursday night the parties met, William Ross armed with a pistol and John with a gun, and attacked Lawson. After the quarrel had progressed for some time, it is alleged that William Ross fired his pistol, the ball taking effect in the neck of Lawson and inflicting a dangerous, if not fatal wound. It appears that no one save the parties engaged in the fracas were present when the shooting was done. The wounded man was able to give a statement of the affair on the evening of its occurrence, and it was upon this that Mr. Patterson based his information. Warrants were issued and placed in the hands of Officers Cupples and Rush, who at once started out in pursuit of the accused.

About seven o'clock yesterday evening the mother and sister of the wounded man arrived in the city and gave Chief Hague a photograph of Wm. Ross by which to identify him when arrested.

Fish, game and early spring vegetables at Holtzheimer's Continental, Fifth avenue, today. Take your noon lunch at the Continental and enjoy a rare feast of the most palatable and delicious viands known in the culinary department; such a feast as will properly fit you for the active business of the day, and tone up your system to that degree of vigor and elasticity which is alone enjoyed by those whose stomachs are properly supplied with vitalizing nourishment.

With the approach of spring the brogans which have encased the feet during the inclement weather will be laid aside, and lighter covering for the pedals substituted. To accommodate this demand, Mr. Will T. Wiley, at the Diamond Front, Fifth avenue, has laid in a choice stock of those marvelously cheap and superior boots, shoes and gaiters, for which his house has became famous.

Ladies, if there is anything you require to complete your spring outfit, or if you have not yet made up your minds as to what that spring outfit shall be, you cannot do better than by calling at Moorhead's, No. 81 Market street, and purchasing their goods. For richness, variety and style the assortment has never been surpassed in the city.

Drop into the Diamond shaving saloon, 61 Diamond, Allegheny, to-night if you wish to know what is the luxury of a clean shave by experienced barbers. Messrs. Lyisles and Scroggins employ no other kind, and always keep a full force of them to quickly respond to the demands of all patrons. There is no finer saloon west of the mountains.

If you want a nice, neat fitting, comfortable and stylish spring suit, call at Hespenheides & Co., No. 50 Sixth street, and leave your measure. They have a fine assortment of cloths in store, from which a selection may be made, and they will guarantee satisfaction in every particular. It is just the place to go for gentlemen's clothing of any kind.

Gents' and boys' clothing in the finest style and of the best material at Urling, Follansbee & Co's., south west corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue. None but superior hands are employed, and every suit is warranted to please or it cannot be taken away.

If You are hungry and tired and sleepy and cross, go to Holzpheimers Continental on Fifth avenue below the Postoffice and be cheered up by partaking of one of those meals, which are the best rejuvenators of which we have any knowledge.

CONSUMPTION.
Its Cure and its Preventive.
BY J. H. SCHENCK, M.D.
Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proven means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted
DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT, and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.
Dr. Schenck has in his own case proved that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.
In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.
The Sea-weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionary disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbification of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms of CONSUMPTION.
The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophilium Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but, unlike calomel, they "LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."
The work of cure is now beginning The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,
A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.
The Sea-weed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.
Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature can not be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.
The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased, and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of the blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.
To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:
"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then, like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time.
"As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since.
"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."
Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.
The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses: the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone for ever.
Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylacteric against consumption in any of its forms.
Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea-weed Tonic $1 50 a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers. mh31:p5

MONDAY EVENING, April 3d, at 7½ o'clock, at A. Leggate's Real Estate and Stock Exchange, 159 Federal street, will be sold the property of J. P. Lyon, corner of Irwin and Lincoln avenues Allegheny. The lot is 25 by 198 feet, to an alley. The house is a three story brick, neatly and substantially built, of handsome external appearance and fitted up internally with all the modern conveniences. The first floor contains parlor 33 feet in length, large drawing room and kitchen. The second floor has three chambers and a sitting room. The third floor has 4 chambers. Cemented cellar underlies the whole house, is perfectly dry, and contains wash house and steam heater. There are two water closets, bath room, pantry store room and several closets, marble mantles, stationery wash stands, hot and cold water, steam registers and handsome gas fixtures throughout, all the ceilings are high, every room is well lighted and ventilated, and the whole house has a cheerful appearance. The exposure is east, the view of the Park very fine and extensive, and the adjacent dwellings first-class. The advantages of possessing the corner of the two finest avenues in the city is apparent. In short, this is an exceedingly desirable residence. Possession given May 15th, when the owner moves permanently to his country residence.
TERMS—Third cash; balance in four equal half yearly payments. The house will be exhibited to visitors every afternoon till day of sale.

ORDINANCES.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting to the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railway Company the privilege of using and occupying a portion of Mary street, Harcum alley and Jane street, and such streets as said road may cross, &c.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Council of the Borough of Ormsby, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same,

That the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railway Company be, and they are hereby authorized to construct and maintain their railway with single or double track along or across a part or portion of Mary street, Harcum alley and Jane street, and across any streets or alleys running at right angles with said named streets or alley in the Borough of Ormsby from the western to the eastern line of said borough Provided however, that said Railway Company shall not extend their tracks further north than the northern line of Larkin's alley, and provided further that the said Railway Company shall not occupy for their road bed a greater width than 24 feet.

The authority and rights hereby granted being subject to the following restrictions and conditions, to wit:

1. That said Railway Company shall complete their main track within said borough within three years from the passage of this ordinance.

2. That said Railway Company shall at all times so govern and direct their agents, servants and employes in the management and operation of said Railway, and so keep and maintain said Railway and the running of their trains within said Borough as to interrupt the travel on said streets and alleys as little as possible. Also that said Railway Company shall put down such culverts across said streets or alleys wherever the same may be necessary.

3. That no train shall move at a greater rate of speed through said Borough than that allowed by the city of Pittsburgh to the railways running through or along its streets, and that each train shall be provided with a bell of suitable size, which shall be placed on the front of the train and rung while passing along said streets and alleys.

4. That said Railway Company shall construct their tracks in accordance with the grades of said streets and alleys, which may be established by the authorities of said borough.

5. That said Railway Company shall keep clean and in good order and repair all those portions of the streets and alleys of said borough, which they shall occupy under this ordinance.

That when Council shall order any of the streets or alleys which said Railway Company shall occupy, under this ordinance, to be paved, the said Company shall furnish the material and, at their own expense, pave the portions of the said streets and alleys so occupied by them, and put in iron sewers at all streets crossed by their track.

Provided, however, that in case the said Railway Company, by their proper officers, do not within ninety days after the passage of this ordinance accept the provisions hereof, then and in that case the same shall become null and void.

Passed March 28.

JAMES S. ATKINSON,
Burgess.
A. L. WALLACE,
Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE—To approve and adopt a certain plan of Ormsby Borough, made by James W. Patterson, Street Regulator, and to lay out, enact and ordain the streets and alleys marked or laid down upon said plan.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Town Council of the Borough of Ormsby, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, that the draft or plan of the Borough of Ormsby, made by James W. Patterson, Street Regulator of said Borough, be and the same is approved and adopted, and all and singular the streets and alleys marked or laid down upon said draft or plan are hereby declared to be laid out, and the same are hereby enacted and ordained.

SEC. 2. That the Burgess be and he is hereby authorized and directed to subscribe his name to and acknowledge the said draft or plan, and the same shall be deposited with and kept by the Clerk and shall be open to public inspection when required.

SEC. 3. That the Clerk shall give due notice, according to the Act of Assembly, in such case, made and provided to all persons directly interested therein, of the laying out, ordering and enacting of the aforesaid streets and alleys, and that the Burgess and Town Council will hear them in relation thereto, at the Council Chamber in said borough, on the third day of May, 1871, at 7½ o'clock P. M., and the Clerk shall keep a record of all said notices. Provided, however, that all ordinances or parts of ordinances, heretofore passed, which may conflict herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Passed March 28, 1871.

JAS. S. ATKINSON, Burgess.
A. L. WALLACE, Clerk. mh31

AN ORDINANCE—Granting to Jones & Laughlins the privilege of constructing and maintaining a railway over the necessary streets to connect the American Iron Works with Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railway.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Burgess and Council of Ormsby borough, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same,

That Jones and Laughlins be, and they are hereby authorized to construct and maintain the necessary tracks and switches over such streets as may be necessary to connect the American Iron Works with the Pittsburgh Virginia and Charleston Railway.

SEC 2. That said Jones & Laughlins shall construct their tracks in accordance with the grades of said streets and alleys which may be established by the authorities of said borough, and said Jones & Laughlins shall be under the same restriction as the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railway Company.
